ASSAM FLOOD SITUATION GRIM, NEARLY 50 LAKH PEOPLE HIT

Incessant rains since last week have inundated 32 out of 36 districts in the north-eastern state, throwing lives in disarray. Assam Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma said on Tuesday that four units of the National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) were rushed from Bhubaneswar to Silchar to carry out rescue operations as the flood situation in Karimganj and Cachar districts worsened due to the rising waters of Barak and Kushiyara rivers following heavy rains.

Uddhav faces rebellion from within

Sena minister Eknath Shinde leads revolt; wants party to go back as junior ally of the BJP

Eknath Shinde claims the support of 30-35 MLAs. Needs 37 to escape anti-defection law

MAHARASHTRA Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray's government faced its biggest existential crisis on Tuesday with Shiv Sena minister Eknath Shinde revolting along with 30-35 party MLAs and Independents and asking the former to form a new government with BJP in the state. To escape disqualification under the anti-defection law, Shinde needs the support of 37 party MLAs.

Shiv Sena, NCP and Congress are part of the ruling Maha Vikas Aghadi. Shinde wants the Sena to go back to its former ally and be part of a new government led by former chief minister Devendra Fadnavis.

The erosion in the party's ranks put a question mark over Uddhav's leadership, more so because Shinde was known to be close to him.

As things stand, Uddhav loyalists have been reduced to a minority within his party. For, at a meeting he called in Mumbai, only 18 are learnt to have turned up, though Sena's Sanjay Raut put the figure at 30.

Earlier in the day, Shinde and his supporters checked into the Le Meridian hotel in Surat. BJP is the single largest party with 105 MLAs and support of six Independents.

It needs 40 more to reach the half-way mark to return to power (see box). In the Rajya Sabha elections, the BJP got support from 123 and in the subsequent MLC polls, its votes ballooned to 134, apparently through cross-voting.

Sources said after Sena's poor performance in the MLC polls, Uddhav called a meeting of his party's top leaders, including Shinde.

He was said to be upset with Shinde for not managing the show despite being given weighty portfolios of urban development and PWD, and a free hand in the government and the party. Shinde has since been stripped of his position as the Sena's group leader in the Assembly. BJP sources said Shinde was in touch with its leadership for the last six months.

Textbook row: CM to hold meeting today

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai said he will hold a meeting with Primary Education Minister BC Nagesh and senior officers on Wednesday to look into the concerns expressed by former Prime Minister H D Deve Gowda over alleged discrepancies in the revision of school textbooks.

The former PM had written a letter, dated June 20, to the CM urging him to reject the books revised by Text Revision Committee chairman Rohit Chakrathirtha as mistakes in the books cannot be corrected at this stage.

"Innumerable mistakes in the textbooks and injustice done by it cannot be corrected merely by way of corrigendum or printing separate pages. Re-revised textbooks should be withdrawn and the books revised by 27 committees headed by Baraguru Ramachandrappa should be used this year," Gowda stated in his letter to the CM.

Gowda said the textbook revision committee head had insulted 'Naadageethe' (state anthem) written by Rashtrakavi Kuvempu. P4

Ikea to open largest store in city today, invest ₹3,000 crore

Hop off at Nagasandra Metro station

Ikea, which is conveniently connected to the Nagasandra Metro Station, also houses a 1,000-seater restaurant. It offers 1,500 parking spaces and has the largest play area for children. Though known for its 'Do It Yourself' (DIY) products, it also offers delivery and assembly services as per customers' preferences for a price. "There is a whole range of solutions -- dining tables to sofas -- according to the budget of customers," said Parineeta.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

SWEDISH home furnishings giant Ikea will open its 4.60 lakh sqft store, the largest in India, at Nagasandra, Bengaluru on Wednesday, June 22.

The large-format store will employ about 1,000 people -- 72 per cent local employees and 20 per cent hired from the local neighbourhood. "Most of our hirings happened online. We also sent co-workers to existing Ikea facilities in Navi Mumbai and Hyderabad to get familiar with the brand," said Parineeta Cecil Lakra, Ikea's Country People & Culture Manager.

She added that about 48 per cent of total employees are women. They have also taken up job roles traditionally reserved for men, such as fork-lift driving, power stacking, assembly and installation services.

Ikea, which features over 7,000 products, has also planned a Rs 3,000 crore investment in Karnataka, and is expecting over 5 million visitors this year. Customers now can buy some of its iconic products such as BILLY Bookcase, FRAGRIK Mugs and GAMMALBYN sofa, among others, at its store.

The brand, which already has 1.8 lakh customers in Bengaluru, also plans to launch its first city-centre store in the city next year. Currently, it plans to have stores in Gurugram and Noida.

Ikea has employed over 3,000 people across India, and it wants to take this to 10,000 in future. Talking about Bengaluru customers, Parineeta said one of the unique features of Bengaluru is the utlisation of balconies unlike Mumbai.

On weekdays, the store expects a footfall of over 10,000, and double the number on weekends. At present, 30 per cent of its customers buy products online, and it plans to increase local sourcing, which is at 27 per cent now, in the coming years. The brand also works with five suppliers in Karnataka.

BBMP chief knee-deep in flood, pothole complaints

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath was flooded with complaints and suggestions over civic issues during the 'Mukhya Ayuktara Nade Valayada Kade' (Chief Commissioner's walk towards zone) initiative at Bommanahalli.

Dozens of Resident Welfare Associations and people submitted representations.

After the meeting, Girinath told TNIE that he has received many complaints regarding flooding of homes, overflowing of drains due to piling of sludge, illegal construction and others.

"The silt will be removed soon, and notices will be sent to building owners. Residents have also asked for shredders in their zones as tree branches and leaves are going to waste sites. There are complaints of footpath encroachment, potholes and drainage problems at Sector 6 and 7, which will be looked into," he said.

Palike's acquiring of revenue pockets have added to HSR Layout's woes. The chairman of all sectors' associations of HSR Layout, BNR Reddy said the residents in some sectors fear flooding of homes during rain when the storm water drains swell.

"It has been long since the drains were cleaned. The BBMP took many revenue pockets into its limits without planning. The residents from the revenue pockets let the waste water, garbage into drains," he said.

₹23.5 CRORE SPENT ON BENGALURU MAKEOVER FOR PM VISIT

Drains and streetlights fixed in one week

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi's visit gave a major infrastructure boost to Bengaluru, with BBMP spending around ₹23.5 crore to do up the city. Expenses included tarring of roads, fixing potholes, covering drains and marking fresh white lines on newly tarred roads.

Special Commissioner Ravindra told TNIE that it was a long-term project and sprucing up was not done only for the PM's visit.

It is said that Rs 14 crore was spent on fixing roads in and around Kommaghatta, Hebbal and the surroundings, around Rs 10 crore for fixing existing streetlights and installing new ones, and also fixing drains with concrete slabs. "The Palike spent around Rs 23.5 crore. We took up development work and it is for long duration," said Ravindra.

As per information, expenses for the visit are taken from the accounts of the commissioner and administrators. It is said these areas were craving for attention from civic agencies for the past few years, but suddenly, the BBMP completed work in just 4 to 7 days.

RWAs smell a rat

General Secretary of Nagarikara Kshemabhivridhi Sangha (an RWA forum) S Sudarshan said work in Kengeri Upanagara, Hemmigepura and Ullal wards was taken up in a hurry, with roads being repaired or tarred even when it rained. "In a month's time, BBMP's work will be exposed," he said, adding that work was done without job code, estimation and work list.

The project estimation was prepared by the Chief Engineer and AEE of Yeshwanthpur assembly segment, but work was taken up by the Major Roads section to help contractors, he alleged.

BBMP official from Major Roads department refuted the charges and said work was taken up under 4G exemption from the government itself.

Infrastructure expert MA Sreehari said as the PM's visit was decided months in advance, the Palike should have done its work earlier, to avoid inflationary costs. "The exercise was to please the PM. As per the Indian Road Congress, a road's durability is 10 years, but now, two heavy showers are enough to destroy it," he said.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IN a refreshing sign, 86 per cent of Bengaluru's first-time voters expressed their intention to cast their vote in the upcoming BBMP polls. Janaagraha's City Politics survey showed these young voters are eager to exercise their franchise. While their main concern is tackling climate change, 88 per cent of these voters believe that good local governance and a strong BBMP are the keys to a better future for Bengaluru.

With BBMP elections likely to be held this year, the Janaagraha Centre for Citizenship and Democracy conducted a City Politics survey to gauge public perception on local governance.

Srinivas Alavilli, head of Civic Participation at Janaagraha, said, "We tried to understand the degree of awareness citizens have about BBMP, particularly first-time voters. The results showed a few understand the role of BBMP, ward corporators, ward committees etc. Voters want civic polls to be conducted on the basis of everyday issues. To improve our city, local governance must be strengthened, beginning with participation in local polls. We urge parties to present a compelling vision for our city."

Using stratified random sampling methodology, 503 people from 27 wards across eight zones were asked 29 questions. The survey was conducted between December 16, 2021, and January 2, 2022, and included people from different age and socio-economic groups, Alavilli said.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

22nd June : The Moon is edging from an emotional zone to an adventurous phase, so you shouldn't be surprised if the mood is shifting. If you make one set of plans, and then discover that they're all washed up by late afternoon, it's a good thing: you can drop your old arrangements and change direction at the drop of a hat. On the other hand, if we all up sticks at the same time, there could be chaos!

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The day's influences advise you to get professional matters in order and tread carefully around all emotional issues. The week's picture, on the other hand, urges you not to get bogged down in detail, but to go for all adventurous and far-sighted options.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
You can indulge yourself, and recognise that a little extravagance could go a long way towards putting you in a better frame of mind. It is possible to spend your way to happiness, and even perhaps to solve problems by throwing money at them.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
It will take a great deal of effort to reach your goals, as I am sure you know. Close partners should be extremely helpful, and very probably ready to lend a helping hand, just as long as you ask. Also, take an overdue decision: you seem to have put off the big moment for far too long.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
You still seem to be taking three steps backwards for every one forwards - and quite possibly one step sideways as well. The planets are sending you a message that you should give up one or two responsibilities and put a goal in cold storage, perhaps until next year.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
If you wish to be spontaneous, take a leaf out of children's plans and activities. In spite of the fact that the day's lunar alignments are somewhat sober, you should find a way to loosen up and let your hair down. The chances of romance are high, but it may be a place which attracts your fancy rather than a person.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You may be slightly accident prone, yet as usual you are determined to get the job done properly. At work, your main problem may be anger or irritation over past slights or hurts. The emotional temperature has dipped, perhaps to your great relief.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Give and take is the order of the day, but it is also important to be in control at home. Mid-morning alignments are romantic, but also somewhat muddled, suggesting that expert assistance is vital. Perhaps you should admit that, for once, you haven't got everything taped!

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
If you are wondering just when life is going to get back to normal, the answer should be now. In fact, the vast majority of people born under your sign may be able to sit back and rest on their laurels. What's more, the emotional tide is about to turn in your favour.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
A word of advice for the whole week: fretting and fuming will do no good. You have to acknowledge that you are rushing ahead of other people, and they must realistically be given sufficient time to catch up. Besides, you could do with time to pause for breath.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It's fine to be secretive and secluded, but you must maintain a continual check on your motives. By all means go behind people's backs if you have everyone's best interests at heart. But be warned that if they find out what you're doing by accident, then they may not be best pleased.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Your stars are looking fabulous from the social point of view. However, while casual friendships appear particularly well-aspected, intimate and passionate links may seem stuck on the launching-pad. The person who can help, could be the last one you think of.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Once again social organisation is on the cards. By this I mean that you will, even against your better judgment, be assuming responsibility for other people. Take care that you have sufficient time, for you don't want to be caught short, just when you're about to succeed.

Omicron sub-lineages behind Covid surge, shows waste water analysis

BA.4, BA.5 variants in 30 cases, samples of 370 awaited; No fourth wave yet

SHILPA P @Bengaluru

GENOME sequencing (GS) tests on samples of 30 Covid-19 infected persons as well as sewage surveillance has indicated that the sudden spurt in Covid cases in Bengaluru has been due to two sub-lineages of the Omicron variant of SARS-CoV-2 virus, which causes the disease. However, the Indian Sars-CoV-2 Genomics Consortium (INSACOG) at the national level is yet to confirm this, according to health department officials, who said this is not yet the fourth wave of the pandemic.

The two sub-lineages, BA.4 and BA.5, were detected in waste water analysis — or sewage surveillance — done in multiple samples in Bengaluru.

The reports of GS tests of samples of the 30 people who had tested positive for RT-PCR tests, revealed the presence of BA.4 and BA.5, while reports of tests conducted on samples of 370 other infected people are awaited.

"The viral load analysis of waste water of over 100 samples from sewage treatment plants, manholes, and open drains was done in all wards of Bengaluru this month. These BA.4 and BA.5 sub-lineages of Omicron are being mainly found in samples of waste water of Bellandur, where nine clusters are found," officials said. However, Health Commissioner D Randeep said, "There is neither a steady nor exponential rise in cases or multiple clustering cases. So we cannot term it as the fourth wave yet."

Meanwhile, a Covid Technical Advisory Committee (TAC) member said: "Unless a new 'Variant Of Concern' (VOC) that is immune-escaping, is reported by the World Health Organisation (WHO) and Centre's INSACOG and Centres for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC&P), we cannot call the surge in cases the fourth wave of Covid."

In Bengaluru, while 25 clusters were found in apartments, health officials said most clusters were detected when those travelling abroad underwent Covid tests. In Mahadevapura zone alone, among 24 clusters in apartments, nine clusters are in Bellandur, two are in Hagadur, four in Varthur, one in Kadugodi, one in Horamavu and one in Vignan Nagar. One cluster is in an apartment in Rajarajeshwari Nagar zone, and another in an individual house in Yelahanka. At present, there are 28 clusters in Bengaluru.

"Cases are rising mainly because people are travelling since there are no travel restrictions. Besides, people are not following Covid protocol even in public rallies and spaces, and are showing reluctance in taking the precautionary dose," said an officer.

On Tuesday, Karnataka reported 738 Covid-19 cases, with 698 from Bengaluru.

Actor Diganth Manchale being brought to Manipal Hospital in Bengaluru on Tuesday after he suffered an injury in Goa | EXPRESS

Actor Diganth airlifted from Goa after 'sports injury'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

NOTED Sandalwood actor Diganth Manchale was airlifted from Manipal Hospital in Goa to Manipal Hospital on Old Airport Road in Bengaluru at 4.30pm on Tuesday, after he reportedly suffered an injury two days ago in Goa.

According to sources, he had been holidaying in Goa with his wife, actress Aindritha Ray.

Diganth, a fitness freak who loves adventure sports, is said to have hurt himself while attempting somersaults. The 38-year old actor from Thirthahalli in Shivamogga has acted in movies like 'Gaalipata', 'Pancharangi' and 'Parijatha'.

According to Manipal Hospital authorities, he had sustained a "sports injury" in Goa two days ago and was being treated at Manipal Hospital there. He is now being treated by Dr Vidyadhara S, head of the department and consultant spine surgeon at Manipal Hospital, Old Airport Road in Bengaluru.

He is undergoing further evaluation and investigations are being carried out, the results of which are awaited, the doctors said.

"The medical team is taking all care to ensure his speedy recovery," said Dr Shankar BC, Head, Medical Services, Manipal Hospital.

According to sources, he arrived on a spine board (a stretcher which restricts movement to avoid aggravating the injury), but was conscious and talking.

He has reportedly suffered injury in his back bone and has also reportedly undergone a surgery on Tuesday evening, which however could not be verified.

Diganth had sustained an eye injury a few years ago while shooting for a movie.

Sharing an update on his health, Aindrita's father, AK Ray, said, "In Goa, while he was doing some sports activity, he was on the trampoline and suddenly he fell on his back. It's a bit of a serious injury as there is a dislocation of the cervical vertebra. His fingers started numbing and since they didn't have proper equipment to treat him they thought they would shift him to Bangalore."

Enquiries about defence asset lead to man's arrest

ENS @Bengaluru

IN a joint operation, the Military Intelligence (Southern Command) and the Bengaluru City Police have arrested a 41-year-old man on charges of converting international calls into local ones, after a call was made by a Pakistani intelligence agency enquiring about a "very-sensitive" defence asset.

Sources said Sharfuddin, who hails from Kerala, was arrested from Hesaraghatta on Monday morning, incidentally on the day PM Narendra Modi was in the city. The police have seized 58 SIM box devices which can hold 32 SIM cards each.

It is learnt that the Military Intelligence was tracking Sharfuddin after a phone call was made to a specific defence installation inquiring about a sensitive asset. "Investigations confirmed that it was a call from Pakistan, but was converted into a local call using an illegal telephone exchange," a source said. The investigation was intensified and it was learnt that the exchange was set up in North Bengaluru following which Sharfuddin was traced and arrested. "He has been taken into police custody and is being questioned," the source added. In June last year, the Anti-Terrorist Cell of the Central Crime Branch had arrested seven on charges of running illegal telephone exchanges, putting national security at risk and causing loss to telcos.

In times of high inflation, thieves target Anganwadi storeroom, steal grains

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru

A group of thieves made away with rice, toor dal, moong dal, groundnuts, cooking oil, sugar, two gas cylinders and milk powder tins from an Anganwadi centre in Anjanapura village on Mysuru Road, on the outskirts of the city, recently.

As a result, 21 Anganwadi students have had to go without food for the past three days. The groceries were used to prepare breakfast and lunch for students in the age group of three to 11 years. The accused reportedly gained entry into the storeroom of the Anganwadi centre by breaking open the locks, and stole only the foodstuff.

A teacher, KP Maheshwari, filed a complaint. The incident came to light when she came to the centre around 9am and found that the food items had been stolen, presumably the previous night.

"There are 21 children in the Anganwadi centre. We give them milk for breakfast, and fresh lunch in the afternoon. For the past three days, the students are not getting any milk or lunch. The accused made away with 25kg of rice, 10kg of toor dal, 3kg of groundnuts, 11kg of milk powder, 5kg of moong dal, 10kg of other cereals, 3kg of sugar and two cylinders. They ransacked the storeroom but did not take any other items. The stolen valuables cost around Rs 20,000," Maheshwari told TNIE.

Police visited the spot and found that some youths practice drama regularly, in an open space next to the Anganwadi centre. "We cannot point fingers at the youth who have been practicing here for the past few months, but we are not ruling out their involvement. Education department officials have also been informed about the incident so that fresh stock of food items are sent," said an officer who is part of the investigation. A case of theft under Section 379 IPC was registered against the accused.

7 prison officials transferred for irregularities

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka government transferred seven prison officials attached to Parappana Agrahara central prison to other prisons, for alleged irregularities: N Ashok was transferred to Vijayapura prison, SN Ramesh to Ballari, Shivananda K Ganiger to Belagavi prison, Umesh R Doddamani to Mysuru, Lokesh P to Dharwad, Bheemanna Devappa Nedalagi to Shivamogga prison and Mahesh Siddanagowda Patil to Kalaburagi. On January 29, the state government had appointed S Murugan, Additional Director General of Police (Communication, Logistics and Modernisation) to probe irregularities in Parappana Agrahara Central Prison.

The probe was ordered after video clips of a history sheeter distributing money to jail staff to enjoy privileges in prison went viral on social media. Another video of canteen staff selling groceries to inmates had also gone viral. A letter by an inmate mentioning detailed irregularities inside the jail in connivance of jail staff had also come to the notice of Home Minister Araga Jnanendra. The report submitted by Murugan pointed out the irregularities of 18 jail officials and recommended action against them. The government has transferred the seven officials on Monday.

Leads International Yoga Day celebrations from Mysuru Palace; says it brings peace

K SHIVA KUMAR @Mysuru

THE heritage city of Mysuru came alive as thousands of yoga enthusiasts poured in to the iconic Mysuru Palace to join Prime Minister Narendra Modi to celebrate the International Yoga Day early on Tuesday morning.

The city woke up around 2 am and prominent streets around the Palace were illuminated to welcome Modi for the eighth edition of the event. As organisers had asked yoga enthusiasts to enter the Palace well in time, people walked, drove and took special buses to be part of the spectacle. Throngs of yoga enthusiasts wearing white T-shirts lined up at all the gates of the palace, even as they were frisked and made to undergo security checks at four points before allowed to enter. They were directed to specified blocks and provided with yoga mats. The palace gates were closed once Modi entered the premises and he was greeted by the royal family.

Across the city, yoga was performed at grounds, parks and educational institutions. LED screens put up at these venues beamed the main event from the palace, even as enthusiasts braved the chill and light drizzle. Modi said yoga is not limited to any specific time or region. "We have to practice yoga and live yoga. Then, it becomes the medium for attaining peace and solace." Earlier, yoga was seen only at spiritual destinations adn traditional homes. But today it is witnessed in every nook and corner of the world. "Yoga has become a vishwa karma or work of the world. I salute the entire population of the entire universe. Yoga brings peace to us, to our country and our world," he said.

Referring to lifestyle problems and global challenges like climate change and international conflicts, he said yoga makes a conscious, competent and compassionate effort to solve these challenges. "Millions of people with a common consciousness and consensus and millions with inner peace will create an environment of global peace. That's how yoga can connect people. That's how yoga can connect countries. That's how yoga can become a problem solver for all of us," he exhorted. Soon after, he took the centre stage performing asanas.

Malini, a housewife, said she and her neighbours decided to join the PM in the Palace soon after his participation was announced.

Praje Sharma, a 12-year-old boy from New Delhi, came with his parents to be part of the event. Praje, who had participated as an instructor in the previous edition of Yoga Day, said his family is happy doing asanas in front of the iconic structure.

NOW, A BLOUSE, HEADBAND TO SUGGEST YOGA POSTURES

ENS @ Mysuru

A blouse that can measure stress and suggest yoga postures, a headband that can tell if one is meditating properly, and posture recognition through kinect technology are some of the highlights at a two-day digital and static yoga exhibition held at Mysuru exhibition grounds here on Tuesday. The exhibition, organised by the Ministry of AYUSH, was inaugurated by Prime Minister Narendra Modi on International Yoga Day. Over 146 stalls have been set up at the exhibition.

A 'Heal in India and Heal by India' wall is curated to showcase career opportunities in yoga training, yoga institutions and pursuing research in yoga and its efficacy in disease mitigation and prevention. It also talks about the evolution of yoga and how it has become a speciality in the field of healthcare and medicine.

Introducing yoga in the global market and making youth understand the benefits and implementation of yoga in recreational zones like spas and cruise ships are also highlighted. Visitors also get to see how yoga is beneficial in multitasking and in taking up psychological tests that can suggest types of yoga postures. Sensors for BMI are also put up and based on which category you fall into, different types of yoga will be suggested. Contestants of a startup yoga challenge have put up a stall showcasing how digitisation of yoga is fast becoming a trend.

MYSORE PAK TO MASALA DOSA, PM'S ROYAL TREAT

K SHIVA KUMAR @Mysuru

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi had breakfast with the erstwhile Mysuru royal family at the palace on Tuesday. On the breakfast menu were the famous Mysore pak and Mysore masala dosa.

Modi, after taking part in the Yoga Day celebrations on the premises of the Mysuru Palace, was warmly received by Rajmata Pramoda Devi Wadiyar, scion Yaduveer Krishnadatta Chamaraja Wadiyar and his wife Trishika Kumari Wadiyar with a garland made of Mysuru mallige (jasmine). Yaduveer and Trishika's son Adyaveeer Narashimaraja Wadiyar was also present.

The royal family had got chefs from its heritage hotel Fernhills Royal Palace, Ooty, and a reputed caterer from Bengaluru. The menu included Mysore pak, Mysore masala dosa, Kashi halwa, Maddur vada, idly, vada, sambhar, and pongal.

Pramoda Devi Wadiyar told TNIE that apart from the South Indian delicacies, north Indian dishes too were prepared complying with the protocol from the PM's office. "I am thankful to the Prime Minister for accepting our invitation and for visiting the palace for breakfast," she added.

Picking Chakrathirtha first mistake: Deve Gowda

"THE government committed the first mistake by appointing a person (Chakrathirtha) who, as the chairman of the textbook revision committee, insulted Kuvempu," Gowda said.

Kuvempu's photograph has been removed from a chapter in a social science textbook, contributions of Siddaganga and Adichunchanagiri mutts have been removed and reference to Dr B R Ambedkar as the architect of the Indian constitution has been dropped, the JD(S) supremo said.

Speaking to media, CM Bommai said he will have a meeting with heads of the education department and education minister on Wednesday where the former PM's letter would be discussed. "His suggestions would be considered seriously and we will decide on what possible measures could be taken," the CM said.

A protest was held in Bengaluru on Saturday against Chakrathirtha and Minister B C Nagesh. The protesters termed the textbook revision "saffronisation of education". Gowda and KPCC chief D K Shivakumar had taken part in the protest.

Cong leaders head out to Delhi

Indian Youth Congress chief Srinivas BV and other party workers at a protest in New Delhi on Tuesday

STATE Congress leaders are in New Delhi to take part in protests against the Enforcement Directorate (ED) taking action against party leaders Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi. State Congress president DK Shivakumar, who took part in the protest in the national capital on Tuesday, said the BJP is trying to silence their voice by filing false cases, but that will not work. "They are harassing our leaders. Not a single rupee has been misused,'' he said.

Shivakumar told reporters on Tuesday that due to political hatred, the BJP government is trying to stifle voices in the Congress. "For us, our party office is like a place of worship, but police stop us from reaching the office. We are here to protest. Things will change, BJP leaders should realise this.,'' he said. He said that Congress leaders from Karnataka are protesting. "Our only MP from Karnataka DK Suresh, and Congress Youth President BV Srinivas were harassed by police," he alleged.

Slamming the ED and Union government, Shivakumar wanted to know why Rahul Gandhi was being questioned for 40 hours. "Sonia Gandhi is discharged from hospital, she has been asked to come to the ED office on Thursday. We are not scared. But we feel that ED officials and Union government are misusing their power'' he said.

Leader of Opposition Siddaramiah left Bengaluru on Tuesday evening and reached Delhi in the night. He will be taking part in AICC programme and protests on Wednesday.

JDS MLA slaps ITI principal in public

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

MANDYA MLA M Srinivas allegedly slapped the principal of an ITI college in Mandya on Monday. The incident occurred during the inauguration of the Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar Upgraded ITI College by the MLA. Srinivas visited the newly-constructed college adjacent to MySugar High School on Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway. The college building has been constructed at a cost of Rs 30 crore, funded by both Union and state governments.

Srinivas allegedly slapped principal Nagananda several times in front of other staff and elected representatives.

After Srinivas inaugurated the centre, City Municipal Council president H S Manju inaugurated the computer lab. As there was no space near the MLA at the entrance of the computer lab, Nagananda was standing behind the staff. When the MLA asked the college staff to brief him about the facilities, Nagananda rushed to the front and tried to explain the facilities. This reportedly angered the MLA who allegedly used foul language and slapped the principal. As Nagananda covered his face and tried to continue to explain the details of the facilities, the MLA reportedly slapped the principal a few more times. JDS leaders, who noticed the media capturing the video of the incident, stopped the MLA.

However, Srinivas continued his visit to all the departments and collected information from the principal. No complaint was filed by the principal.

MySugar president Shivalinge Gowda and assistant commissioner Aiswarya were present. When reporters asked the reaction of the principal on the incident, he said that he had no idea why the MLA was angry with him. "I explained the details of the new upgraded college to the MLA," he said.

'PM praised our welfare programmes'

ENS @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Tuesday said Prime Minister Narendra Modi's appreciation for welfare programmes and development works has given him more strength to work with greater vigour and efficiency. He said the PM has expressed his appreciation for the welfare programmes and development works in the state. "It has given me more strength to work with greater vigour and efficiency," he said.

Responding to Opposition Leader Siddaramaiah criticising the PM's visit to Karnataka, Bommai said the PM helped the state with thousands of crores in grants and ensured the supply of medicines, vaccines, ventilators, and oxygen units during Covid. On Panchamasali seers' threat to protest outside his residence in Shiggaon, Haveri district, Bommai said minister CC Patil and the seers are likely to hold talks on Wednesday.

Kerala: Cong sabotages party plan

State unit ignores norm to bring in 50% youth and women representation in party committees

CYNTHIA CHANDRAN @T'Puram

WITHIN a month after the Congress Chintan Shivir in Udaipur resolved to bring in 50% youth and women representation in the party committees, the party state unit has sabotaged the plan by preparing a list of 280 general council members ignoring the same.

It is learnt that there is not even 10% change in the incumbent general council and social balancing has not been maintained. The proposed list is likely to be rejected by the central leadership, said sources.

Soon after Thrikkakara byelection victory, party returning officer G Parameshwara urged Congress state president K Sudhakaran and Opposition Leader V D Satheesan to prepare the draft list of the new general council members. They discussed it with senior leaders Oommen Chandy and Ramesh Chennithala and UDF convener M M Hassan and finalised a list.

"Rahul Gandhi had suggested 50% women and youth representation during the Chintan Shivir. It has been sabotaged. Not only that, communal balancing has also not been followed. There is zero representation of Latin Catholic, Nadar and Muslim communities in Thiruvananthapuram district," said a Congress leader.

Satheesan told TNIE that the draft list was prepared in haste. He added that more changes will be made in the list as, traditionally, only 20-25% representation is earmarked for women and youths. "I can guarantee that unlike olden times, the seats will not be shared between the two groups. We will provide maximum representation to women and youths by avoiding non-performers and removing the expired leaders from the general council list," said Satheesan.

Postpone JEE Mains, say students

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AFTER the admit cards of the JEE Mains 2022 were released online on Tuesday, two days prior to the first test on June 23, students are worried about how to reach their venues amidst widespread protests, floods and Bharat Bandh in some parts of the country. The students have demanded that the exams be postponed.

Parth Maha, a resident of Gujarat, said he has been awaiting admit card and it was released on Tuesday ahead of the first exam on June 23. "I do not know where my centre is and to travel there at the last moment would be difficult," he said.

With #JEEMains2022 trending on social media platforms, Himanshu Borah, a student activist tweeted, "Several are requesting to reschedule the exam due to floods across 33 districts in Assam. Also, violence across the country due to Agnipath protests have led to travel problems."

The National Testing Agency (NTA), which released the admit card, are yet to make any official announcement on postponement. Vishwamurty, an 18-year-old from Andhra Pradesh will be travelling to Bengaluru for the test. He demand for the test to be postponed to avoid making travel plans at the last minute.

D. Shashi Kumar, general secretary of the Karnataka Associated Management of English Medium Schools (KAMS), said the government has left students with no time to prepare for the exams, which will hamper their performance. Travelling to the centres will take time for students at such a short notice, he said.

Three CRPF men killed in Maoist attack

Bhubaneswar: Breaking a long lull in the region, the outlawed CPI (Maoist) killed three Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF) personnel in Patadhara Reserve Forest in Nuapada district's Bhoden block on Tuesday afternoon. The incident took place when a platoon of CRPF was combing the area. METRO CASH & CARRY CEO FACES DEATH THREAT

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

EVEN as the state government is preparing for the Global Investors Meet in about four months, a grim development has shaken the establishment. The MD and CEO of Metro Cash and Carry, Arvind Mendiratta, has received a 'death threat'.

Metro sources confirmed that they have sought an appointment with Home Minister Araga Jnanendra, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and the police top brass to inform them about the threat.

The handwritten note in Tamil says that Metro should sell only to certain companies and names those firms, with a warning that if it is not done, the MD will not be alive. Mendiratta, however, was not available for comments.

In its letter to the authorities, Metro stated, "Given the gravity of the threat, we would request your intervention on priority."

Mendiratta has been instrumental in turning Metro into a profitable and almost a billion-dollar business in the country. He is an alumnus of IIT Delhi and IIM Calcutta, and has been the FICCI retail and internal trade committee chairman for the last three years.

When contacted, Araga Jnanendra said, "We have received the information. I have spoken to the police about it." Metro sources said company members will meet Jnanendra when he arrives in Bengaluru on Wednesday evening."

> The death threat has to be investigated by the police. As the state prepares for the investors meet in a few months, the authorities have to ensure the safety of the investors
>
> HD Kumaraswamy, former CM

Former CM HD Kumaraswamy said, "The death threat has to be taken seriously and investigated by the police. As the state prepares for the investors meet in a few months, the authorities have to ensure the safety of the investors."

Mohandas Pai, former director of Infosys and chairman of Manipal Global Education, suggested that the Metro team should meet Jnanendra and seek personal security for Mendiratta.

Bengaluru is not new to such threats to the rich and powerful. When T Madiyal was Bengaluru police commissioner, a private company received a threat and had informed the police, but hesitated to file a formal complaint. In 2012, real estate magnate Dayanand Pai was attacked and shot at in Basavanagudi.

Metro Cash and Carry, which has invested Rs 2,300 crore in the country and has 33 stores, is headquartered in Bengaluru.

INTER-STATE COUNCIL CAN HELP BOLSTER STATE-CENTRE BOND

A defining feature of the eight-year rule of the Narendra Modi government is its often baffling adherence to secrecy while framing and implementing policies. From demonetisation to the Covid-19 lockdown to the farmers' bill to the scrapping of Article 370, every major decision of the government was shrouded in mystery. The government has a brute majority in Parliament. It can steamroll the opposition and enforce its will if it so wishes. However, in a country of 130-crore people with cultural, geographical, regional and linguistic diversity, building a broader consensus is the abiding necessity of statecraft.

The unrelenting violence over the Agnipath proposal and the groundswell of anger in the past week are reminders of the need to have robust discussions with all stakeholders, however marginal they are. Tamil Nadu Chief Minister M K Stalin's letter to the prime minister underscoring the need to strengthen and revive institutional mechanisms such as the Inter-State Council (ISC) for "effective and interactive communication" between the states and New Delhi is a timely wake-up call. The letter said that many bills affecting the rights and interests of the states are passed without proper opportunity being given to the opposition to debate the merits and voice the concern of the states.

States are not an adjunct of the Centre or mere administrative aides to implement the latter's policies. They are independent and co-equal legal entities with autonomous powers and responsibilities. Though the ISC was established as a permanent body in 1990 by a Presidential order based on the recommendations of the Sarkaria Commission, it met only 12 times since then; the last meeting was nearly five years ago. The council was reconstituted last month with the mandate to create a strong institutional framework to promote cooperative federalism. During the Planning Commission-era in Indian polity, the National Development Council led by the PM, in which chief ministers of all states were members, offered a politico-administrative platform of the highest order to discuss, debate and decide issues. In the era of NITI Aayog, ISC is well-suited to perform that role. The BJP-led Centre can dismiss it at its own peril.

JUMBO PROBLEM IN LAND OF GAJAPATIS

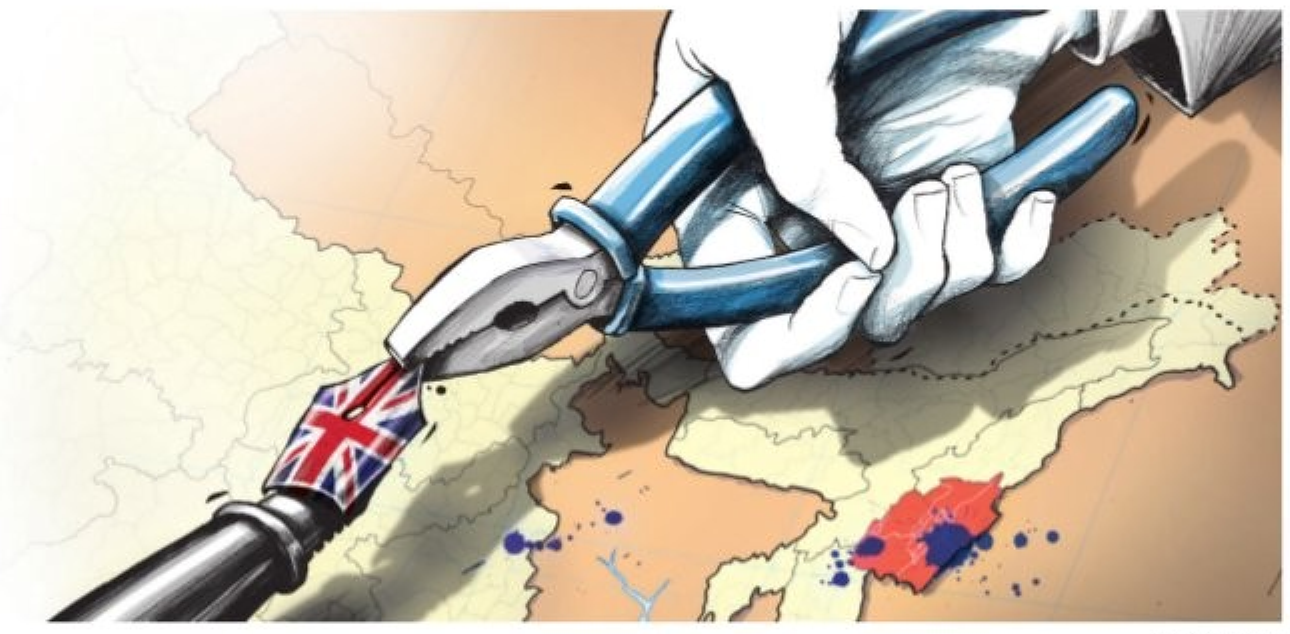
The elephant may be India's national heritage animal but it faces an unprecedented existential crisis in Odisha. Poaching, an indifferent administration and a compromised forest bureaucracy are driving the pachyderm population to an untimely death. Their tusks cause their doom. Ivory is precious, and its trade, though illegal, is rampant and carried on with impunity. Four carcasses, including three this month alone, were exhumed from the Athagarh Forest Division of Cuttack district in 2022. The complicity of the forest staff is apparent in the manner in which the news of the deaths was suppressed. Obviously, nobody has a clue about the disappearing tusks. In nearby Boudh district, the cannabis mafia brought in hired guns to poach two elephants and decamped with the ivory tusks last month. Clearly, a poachers' network is flourishing in Odisha's forests, thanks to the collusion of forest officials.

However, the BJD government's apathetic attitude towards the alarming situation is perplexing. It took action and ordered a probe by a Special Investigation Team only after Union Minister Dharmendra Pradhan took to social media last week to flag his concern about the plight of the jumbos. His Cabinet colleague and Minister of Forests, Environment and Climate Change Bhupendra Yadav also took up the cause and urged the state government to initiate stringent action against the poachers.

Elephants have always been accorded a place of reverence in Odisha's culture. Such is the reverence that erstwhile kings carried the title of Gajapati (ruler with army of elephants). Lord Jagannath and His divine siblings, principal deities for millions of Odias, appear in a Hati Besha (wearing an elephant attire) before the annual Rath Yatra. Ironically, the strong and viable elephant population in Odisha has always been under tremendous stress from mindless mining, linear infrastructure and ever-expanding urbanisation, leading to serious conflict situations. In the last 12 years, as Pradhan himself cited, over 970 elephants have succumbed to poaching, poisoning, electrocution and accidents. CM Naveen Patnaik is a wildlife lover but his administration, currently, seems to be doing him a great disservice by its cold indifference.

Independent India has followed the British land revenue administration model in Manipur. This has led to friction among the ethnic communities in the region

MUTANT LEGACY OF A BRITISH-ERA LAW IN MANIPUR



SOUMYADIP SINHA

PRADIP PHANJOUBAM
Editor of Imphal Review of Arts and Politics

Following the invasion and occupation of Assam and Manipur by the seventh ruler of the Konbaung dynasty, King Bagyidaw of Burma in the early 19th century, the British felt their province of Bengal was made vulnerable and intervened. They annexed Assam and merged it with Bengal after defeating the Burmese in the First Anglo-Burmese War and signing the Treaty of Yandaboo in 1826. The British also helped two Manipur princes and their armies in exile in Cachar liberate Manipur but let it remain a protectorate.

Good as the British were in sizing up their adversaries, after this war they were confident that Burma was in no position to pose any threat to them thereafter. They did, however, fight two more wars with Burma in 1852 and 1885, but as Southeast Asia scholar, Alastair Lamb, puts it in Asian Frontiers: Studies in a Continuing Problem, these were no more than excuses to annex territories and the British "swallowed Burma in three gulps".

This being their security assessment, not long after this war, the British withdrew their regular troops, and in their place raised civil militias, Cachar Levy and Jorhat Militia in the 1830s. The latter merged with the former the same year and came to be known by various names, including Assam Military Police. How this militia, "less paid than the military but better armed than the police", grew in stature and importance to be finally upgraded to be India's first paramilitary force, Assam Rifles, in recognition of its contribution to the British war effort during WWI, is well documented by colonial military historian, L W Shakespeare.

Meanwhile, another security concern grew—that of raids by hill tribes on the more plentiful plains during lean seasons. The Ahom had dealt with this through a practice known as posa whereby the hill tribes were given a share of the plain's produce in kind each year on the promise they would not raid to deserve retributive counter-raids. The British borrowed this and also introduced the Bengal Eastern Frontier Regulation of 1873, by which an "Inner Line" was drawn to separate the revenue plains of Assam from the "wild" hills that were to be left alone and unadministered. The hills beyond the "Inner Line" came to be later designated as "excluded areas" and "partially excluded" areas. Ironically, this line, which was drawn originally to secure the revenue plains from the raids from the hills, is now seen as a protection provided for vulnerable small hill populations by the British, and indeed with a measure of truth in the changed social circumstance of post-colonial India.

There were other complications resulting from the Inner Line. One of these was that although the name itself implied an Outer Line as well, it was never drawn. The story of the McMahon Line—which is part of this implied Outer Line—drawn in a hurry during the 1913–1914 Simla Conference when the Inner Line came to be too often and dangerously mistaken for the international boundary, is illustrative of this.

The legacy of this colonial frontier management lives on in the Northeast, but nowhere has it taken a more mutant form than in Manipur. After the First Anglo-Burmese war, Manipur was left as a protectorate state considering its strategic location. Indeed, Lord Curzon, who explains his notion of the three-layered buffer of British colonial frontiers in his Romanes Lecture 1907, had also visited Manipur in 1901. From 1826 to 1891, Manipur remained a close ally of the British, participating in several of the latter's expeditions in controlling their eastern frontier, including an expedition to Kendat in Burma during the Third Anglo-Burmese war in 1885, to rescue European employees of the Bombay Burma Company based there.

In 1891, however, when a palace revolt over the crown broke out between sibling princes, the British made an unwarranted intervention leading to an open war in which Manipur was defeated. The British deposed and banished rebellious King Kulachandra and either executed or banished his blood brothers. Because the British did not immediately think of a successor to the throne, by the Doctrine of Lapse introduced by Lord Dalhousie in 1859, Manipur came to be automatically annexed by the British and this lasted from April 27 to September 22, 1891. But after finally agreeing to putting a scion from a different royal bloodline on the throne, they allowed Manipur to become a protectorate again. Their choice, Churachand, was only a five-year-old and so, till he came of age and while he was being educated at Mayo College in Ajmer, the British political agent acted as regent.

The state follows two laws—one for the hills and the other for the Imphal valley, causing complications. The Imphal valley follows a modern land revenue law and its benefits are open to all domiciles, but the law for the hills is exclusionary, especially to the valley-dwellers—the Meiteis

In 1907, Churachand was coronated but it was the British who determined the broad architecture of the princely state's administrative structure. A Manipur State Darbar was formed, and the President of this Darbar was the British political agent, taking somewhat the role of the Governor in the British-ruled province of Assam. The administrative mechanism of separating the hills and plains, tried and tested in Assam, was also introduced, whereby only the plains were to be administered and not the hills, which remained "excluded areas" (though without actually drawing an Inner Line as in the case of Assam). They also left a corridor between the hills and plains known as "Sadar Hills", which was to be neither a hill nor valley—somewhat the equivalent of a "partially excluded" area.

Independent India has allowed a mutant version of this system to remain in Manipur, in matters of land revenue administration. The state follows two laws—one for the hills and the other for the Imphal valley, causing complications and dangerous frictions between its ethnic communities. The Imphal valley follows a modern land revenue law and its benefits are open to all domiciles, but the law for the hills is exclusionary, especially to the valley-dwellers—the Meiteis. Even Sadar Hills, now Kangpokpi district, which was originally meant to be neither hill nor valley, is now considered a hill district, though there are still elements of hybridity of the two land laws. For instance, Nepalis can own land, vote and even contest elections here, but not the Meiteis. Consequently, a hostile mental distancing is now crystallising. In Manipur's ethnic cauldron, this can lead to tragic outcomes.

It is time for change. Manipur needs to come under one modern land revenue administration, though with reasonable variations introduced for different topographies, cultures, economic practices of communities, etc.

VISHWA GURU INDIA: THE WHY AND THE HOW

VINAY SAHASRABUDDHE
President, ICCR, and BJP Rajya Sabha MP

For several years, talk of India becoming a Vishwa Guru—the teacher or knowledge-giver of the world—has been in the air. Many take pleasure in rubbishing this idea. On the other hand, there are others who are understandably very passionate about making this happen. Perhaps there are many who consider this as a hollow sentiment of self-pride, something emerging out of jingoism. Sadly, most in the last category are perennial skeptics who are either not conscious of India's intrinsic strengths or who think self-flagellation is the only way to enter the prestigious club of progressives in the country.

Becoming a Vishwa Guru is largely considered a sentiment of national ambition and there is nothing wrong about it. Like individuals, nations also need to have a national aspiration. To believe that India is incapable of pursuing this aspiration is an injustice to our past, present and future too. This is mainly so for three reasons: firstly, India's unique worldview emanating from our civilisational culture; secondly, our remarkable achievements during the last75 years; thirdly, our intrinsic strength to offer something that the global community so very critically requires.

Firstly, our civilisational culture has provided us with a strong philosophical foundation that has several unique features. These features make India what it is. Our spiritual democracy, where Ekam Sat, Vipra Bahuda Vadanti (the truth is one, but the wise men describe the same differently) serves as the cornerstone of our approach to diverse ways of worship, makes India a home for all religions that live in harmony. This spiritual democracy has hugely contributed to the success of our political democracy. Also unique is the essentially Indian concept of Antyodaya—that the most deprived are considered the most deserving has helped us move beyond the binary of socialism and capitalism. Besides, while the talk of sustainable development has been a part of global discourse only for a few decades, our approach of respect and gratitude towards Mother Nature forms our basis and thus we reject the notion of conquering Nature. After all, living in harmony with Nature is the prerequisite of sustainability.

Looking back, it would not be wrong to say that the key doctrinal approaches mentioned above have proved to be the priceless capital for our achievements after Independence. As we celebrate Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav, the 75th anniversary of our Independence, what has been achieved by us is remarkable in many ways. From record agricultural production to advancements in nuclear and space technology, from ensuring affordable healthcare to setting up world-class educational institutions, from ayurveda to biotechnology, from giant steel plants to becoming an IT power and having the third-biggest start-up ecosystem in the world, what we have achieved in our post-Independence journey is truly impressive. Most important, however, is the fact that while many newborn democracies after World War II have faced some uprising against democratic rulers, eventually leading to interludes of autocracy, India has continued with democratic governance almost uninterruptedly. Popular commitment has made India one of the most vibrant democracies.

India is geographically diverse and there are many climate zones too. We also speak many languages and believe in different ways of worship. Seen in this backdrop, the country's journey towards development, prosperity and stability truly remains not just a story of inspiration but should spark a realisation: Our apparent diversity is just the diverse manifestation of our innate unity. Factors that underscore this include our strong democratic institutions, a widely respected electoral body, the rule of law, a vigorous media and a vibrant civil society. Panchayati Raj or the decentralised system of governance is a testimony to the fact that democratic values in India have percolated to the grassroots. This is one of the most remarkable achievements of independent India.

We can't break from our traditions but at the same time, we also can't be prisoners of them. India can set an example of how we can move towards modernity and still save ourselves from mindless Westernisation

While reviewing India's advancement on the economic front, Asia Society rightly noted: "… A retrospective analysis of the last 75 years also throws up some shining figures and facts. India's total food production, which stood at 54.92 million tonnes in 1950, had risen six-fold to 305.44 million tonnes by 2020–21. The country's foreign exchange reserves have grown from INR 10.29 billion in 1950–51 to over INR 46 trillion currently and foreign investment has accelerated from INR 2.56 billion in 1948 to over INR 66 billion in 2022. Infrastructure growth in roads and railways, the rapid growth of the telecom, technology and financial services sectors are some of the other defining achievements of the Indian economy since Independence."

Now, building upon the remarkable success that India has achieved in sustainable pluralism and democratic governance so far, we can truly aspire to share our knowledge for the benefit of the global community in multiple ways. This is the way a Vishwa Guru has to spread the light of knowledge. The quintessential message emanating from the idea of India is that civilisational cultures travel from the past through the present and to the future. We can't break from our traditions but at the same time, we also can't be prisoners of them. India can set an example of how we can move towards modernity and still save ourselves from mindless Westernisation.

Another important message of the Idea of India is to consider the entire world as one family, or Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam. It was not for no reason that PM Narendra Modi, during his very first address to the UN General Assembly, wondered why like G7 and G20, there couldn't be a group called G-All to take care of challenges before the entire humanity.

This is what makes India aspire to be the knowledge-giver of the world. We were always a knowledge society indulging in debates and exchanges of ideas. The basics of our philosophy have shaped our worldview. Sharing that worldview loud and clear with the requisite confidence and courage of conviction will make the world understand that yes, India is a Vishwa Guru. And when this is globally recognised, domestic doubting Thomases will also be silent.

Eradicating black money

This is with reference to Grappling with the menace of black money (June 21). Black money and corruption have always been floating around in our society and the Indian economy. Despite efforts by successive governments, the issue remains unsolved. The only way to tackle this problem is through strong legal measures and public participation. However, at this juncture, it seems impossible to eradicate this nuisance of black money.

Rise in Swiss banks funds

Narendra Modi became prime minister by talking about the black money in Swiss banks. Unfortunately, there has been an increase in black money deposits in Swiss banks and the PM never bothered about the funds that belong to political leaders and industrialists who support him.

It is shocking to see that bulldozers were used by Aligarh and Ghaziabad police in the flag march. Using bulldozers against the agitators who are protesting against the government is not right. The Supreme Court should take appropriate action against the act.

Three Services chiefs brief PM on rollout of Agnipath scheme

No change in the existing system of recruitment of soldiers, no impact on operational readiness, say forces; duration of training to depend on choice of service

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

AMID the anger against the new Agnipath recruitment plan for the armed forces, the three Services chiefs met Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday and apprised him about their plans for the implementation of the scheme.

It is learnt that the PM and the three chiefs agreed that the "scheme will not be rolled back" and discussed what more could be done to ensure that Agniveers get employment after four-year military service. The Army, the Navy and the Air Force have rolled out detailed plans for recruitment of Agniveers.

The three military services said the Agnipath scheme, announced on June 14, will not entail any change in the existing system of recruitment of soldiers and will not impact their combat capabilities and operational readiness. "What happened five years ago, the same will continue," said Lt Gen Anil Puri, Additional Secretary, Department of Military Affairs. Those recruited under the scheme will be eligible for gallantry awards.

Lt-Gen Puri said the new scheme was aimed at making the age profile of the forces youthful. Emphasizing that the exercise was not aimed at right-sizing the forces but to lower their age-profile and enhance their overall capability, he said, "At present the age profile of the manpower in the forces is 32 years and it will come down to 26 in next six-seven years."

Training time to depend on choice of service

The duration of training of candidates joining Agnipath will depend on the choice of their arm and service. The training duration will be more in a few cases. "We have compressed the old training schedule comprising technology simulator and intense training which we want to extend from 24 weeks to 31 weeks," said Lt-Gen CB Ponappa, Adjutant General of the Army.

As per the old system, Navy sailors were imparted 20-22-week basic training, two-week ship orientation and again 20-22 weeks of professional training. Over all, as per the Agniveer scheme, training duration will be reduced by four weeks.

The Army under the old system imparted 9 months of basic training to its recruits after which they joined the units. Every unit held two weeks of cadre course to make the new recruits aware of the unit's history and traditions.

IAF's airmen were given six-month basic training. After that, depending on the trade, additional six months to two years' training was given to them. The Army will be holding more than 80 recruitment rallies for the Agniveers for which the process has begun with the Army issuing a notice on Monday. The first batch of trainees will join in December and the second in February. There has been no change as far as the standard of recruitment is concerned, said officers. The foreseen responsibilities will be technical for which technically oriented jawans are needed.

The Navy is working to improve the trainer-trainee ratio. It will use more simulators, said Vice Admiral DK Tripathi, the Chief of Personnel of the Navy.

The Navy has signed an MoU with the Directorate General of Shipping according to which not only the Agniveer sailors but officers will also be able to join the Merchant Navy.

Agniveers 'guaranteed' govt jobs in Haryana

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

HARYANA government will provide 'guaranteed' employment to Agniveers after their four-year stint in the armed forces, Chief Minister Manohar Lal Khattar announced on Tuesday. He added that Haryana was the first state in the country to ensure job guarantee for the military recruits under the new scheme.

Addressing a Yoga Day event in Bhiwani, Khattar said, "Anyone (Agniveer) who wants to join Haryana government services will be given a guaranteed job. No one will go without a job."

These youths will be absorbed in Group C services — which are non-gazetted posts such as clerks, teachers and office assistants, or police.

Khattar said PM brought radical reforms like Agnipath scheme. Seventy-five per cent of those exiting the armed forces would be absorbed into government jobs in Haryana and this would increase the interest of the youth in the Army.

The Opposition, however, questioned how the government will ensure "guaranteed" jobs.

"How will you create another category beyond 50% reservation? Anyone will challenge this additional category created under Agnipath scheme in court and youth will again have nowhere to go..," said Congress leader RS Surjewala.

Assam party cautions Centre over scheme

A political party in Assam has warned the Centre that Agniveers from the Northeast might get drawn to militancy out of frustration once they hang up their boots. The Asom Jatiya Parishad also said the Agnipath scheme would render the forces to pension-less irregular service and it would threaten the country's security.

LIQUOR LICENCE

RETAILERS SAY POLICY FAVOURS WHOLESALERS

SHAHID FARIDI @ New Delhi

THE Government of Delhi NCR headed by Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal implemented a new excise policy in Delhi effective November 15, 2021. It withdrew from liquor business the four state government corporations namely DSIDC, DTTDC, DSCSC and DCCWS that earlier ran almost half of all the liquor vends in the city and were responsible for nearly 50% of liquor sales in Delhi. This literally pushed the state's liquor trade into the hands of private players.

Among private players, the policy is said to be tilted in favour of wholesalers, giving them power to treat retailers differently. The new policy has given a handful of wholesalers offering brands of Pernod Ricard India Pvt Ltd and Diageo India a significant control over the supply to retail vends and the quantum of discount to offered. Pernod Ricard India Ltd and Diageo India account for over two-thirds of the India liquor brands sold in Delhi.

BJP leader Manjinder Singh Sirsa, in a complaint to the CBI, said that "the policy has been drafted and notified with the sole intent to facilitate creating of monopoly in the liquor market..." He said "the policy has been tailor-made" for a few wholesalers as one of the eligibility conditions to bid for a wholesaler's license (L-1) was to have a minimum annual turnover of ₹150 crore for three previous years. This eliminated small players from the bidding process.

Delhi's deputy chief minister Manish Sisodia, who headed the group of ministers that finalized the new excise policy, did not respond to the question on the rationale behind keeping the turnover at ₹150 crore, and whether this high entry limit helped bigger companies getting a monopolistic control of Delhi's liquor trade.

The new excise policy awarded a fixed profit margin of 12% for the wholesalers irrespective of the sales and actual profits of retailers. Industry sources said the high fixed profit protected the wholesalers' interest but squeezed out the retailers who have started surrendering their licenses.

The new policy also gave out retailer's licenses for which it divided the national capital into 32 zones with 27 shops in each zone. With an average reserve price of approximately ₹225 crore per zone, the reserve price for these zones added up to nearly ₹7,000 crore. Against this, the Delhi government earned about ₹9,000 crore through competitive bidding.

But after operating the zones for a few months, as many as 10 out of a total of 32 zonal retailers have surrendered their licenses because of lower-than-expected revenues and unfair competition. The retailers who have surrendered their licenses largely blamed the discriminatory policy for the non-viability of their business. Sources said that big liquor manufacturers were offering discounts through wholesalers to select retailers while denying the same to others, thereby tilting the playing field in favour of a select few.

The earlier excise policy expressly denied manufacturers the permission to offer discretionary discounts, rebates and incentives to retailers. In the exceptional case of a manufacturer wanting to offer some gift packs to retailers, he had to treat all retailers equally. The new policy, however, removed this condition and gave a free hand to the manufacturers to offer discounts and incentives to the retailers. This put retailers at the mercy of manufacturers and wholesalers who are picking their favourite retailing zones for offering concessions. Retailers who have surrendered their licenses say that the discounts being offered by some manufacturers and wholesalers to select retailers are so heavy that these retailers are able to offer buy-one-get-one-free schemes. This predatory pricing by retailers favoured by some manufacturers and wholesalers has killed other retailers who were left with no option but to surrender their license.

Sources said a large number of petitions have been filed, including one by the Delhi Liquor Traders' Association which has close to 150 members, in the Delhi High Court.

CBI may look into AAP govt's liquor policy

SHAHID FARIDI @ New Delhi

FORMER president of the Delhi Sikh Gurdwara Management Committee and BJP leader Manjinder Singh Sirsa recently filed a complaint with the CBI accusing the Delhi state government of implementing an excise policy that "extended wrongful gains and favour to liquor wholesalers in Delhi... at the cost of state's revenue".

Sirsa sought a probe against Delhi Deputy Chief Minister Manish Sisodia, who was the head of the Group of Ministers that drafted the new excise policy, and some government officials "who have customized and enacted the policy to reap wrongful gains".

He said "the policy has been drafted and implemented with the following persons acting as aide: Mr Manoj Rai, Mr Manish Sosodia, Mr K Gehlot, Mr Satyendra Jain, Mr Arava Gopi Krishna and several other unknown ministers in connivance with one Mr Dinesh Arora and Mr Vijay Nair, who have been actively involved in layering..." the deal.

In his complaint on June 7, Sirsa also accused Sisodia of holding a meeting at his Delhi residence on 30.05.22 with Punjab excise and taxation officials to draft a similar policy for Punjab. Sirsa said the meeting at Sisodia's residence was attended by Varun Runjan, excise and taxation commissioner, Punjab, Kap Sinha, financial commissioner, taxation, Punjab, Naresh Dubey, Vijay Nair, AAP Member of Parliament Raghav Chadha and Punjab excise minister Harpal Cheema.

Sisodia did not respond to a detailed questionnaire sent to him by this newspaper on June 14.

On June 20, however, a response, purportedly to the questionnaire, was received on WhatsApp by this correspondent from Pritam Pal Singh, Media Communication Advisor to Chief Minister of the Government of the National Capital Territory, Delhi.

The response read as follows: "Aam Aadmi Party's response — All the allegations leveled herein are completely baseless and politically motivated. Delhi government's new excise policy increased tax revenue by over ₹3,000 crore in just one year. This money was earlier going into the pocket of BJP leaders who were controlling the liquor mafia across Delhi. Seeing their illicit income be (sic) stopped, the BJP is making huge hue and cry."

Rahul questioned by ED for fifth day

SUMIT KUMAR SINGH @New Delhi

THE Enforcement Directorate (ED) on Tuesday grilled Congress leader Rahul Gandhi for the fifth day on the ownership of Young Indian Limited (YIL) and its shareholding pattern in Associated Journals Limited (AJL), which ran the National Herald newspaper. However, a government source admitted that there wasn't a strong enough case to make arrest in the matter.

The probe team led by Sanjay Kumar Mishra, 1984-batch Indian Revenue Service officer of the Income Tax Department, is "just taking statement of Congress leader in the matter" to understand the functioning of Young Indian Ltd, the source said.

Police detain K C Venugopal during a protest over National Herald case | PARVEEN NEGI

The agency completed the fourth round of questioning of Rahul Gandhi at 12:45 am on Tuesday and had asked him to appear again by 11 am on Tuesday. The Wayanad MP reached the ED office at 11: 20 am and did not leave for lunch on Tuesday. He was questioned till night. He took a half-hour break around 8 pm and rejoined the session. He has been questioned for almost 50 hours so far.

It was not known immediately if he has been called again.

Sources also said that Rahul has claimed ignorance about financial details in and told the ED team that Motilal Vora, the longest serving treasurer of the Congress, who passed away in December 2020, was dealing with the whole affair.

Based on Rahul Gandhi's answers and ED investigations, questions will be asked to Congress president Sonia Gandhi who has been asked to appear before the agency on June 23. She was discharged from a private hospital in New Delhi on Monday where she had been admitted for Covid-related complications and has now been advised rest.

The Congress continued its protests against the ED's summons to the Gandhis. Party leaders staged a Satyagraha at the headquarters alleging misuse of the probe agency and harassment of its leaders. Those who took part in the protest included Rajasthan CM Ashok Gehlot and Chhattisgarh CM Bhupesh Baghel.

Indians barred from 'high potential' visas for UK; don't meet criteria

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

GRADUATES from across 50 non-UK top ranking universities can come to the United Kingdom (UK) through a new visa scheme called the High Potential Individual (HPI) route visa. However, since no Indian institution figures among the top 50 universities, not even IITs or IIMs, Indians will not be eligible to apply under this scheme.

The closest India has in the QS ranking 2022 announced last week is Indian Institute of Science at 155.

Eligible universities must appear in the top 50 rankings of at least two of the following — Times Higher Education world university rankings, Quacquarelli Symonds world university rankings, or the Academic Ranking of World Universities.

The objective is to attract the "brightest and best" at the beginning of their careers to work in the UK. Successful applicants with a Bachelor's or Master's degree will be given a two-year work visa, while PhD-holders can apply for a three-year visa.

The UK government guidance states that beneficiaries can switch to other long-term employment visas, if they meet the eligibility criteria. No fixed numbers were shared for those who can apply, which implies that it could be based on demand.

Meanwhile, under the skilled worker category in the UK, Indians are the top nationality granted visas. Nearly two-fifth of visas were granted to Indians under it.

"Considering the fact that Indians are among the most successful ethnic groups in the UK, it is sad that Indians can't apply under this scheme," said an expert on India-UK relations.

According to the last report on Race Disparity Audit released by the UK government, Indians were a major ethnic working group in the UK. "In the last year alone, over 65,500 skilled worker visas were issued to Indian nationals," a British High Commission spokesperson told The New Indian Express.

Indian nationals have accounted for 43% of the total skilled worker visas in 2021, which is a 14% increase from 2019. Experts attribute this to the point-based UK immigration system that was launched after Brexit.

Ex-babus write to CJI on bulldozer action

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

A group of retired bureaucrats has written to Chief Justice of India N V Ramana over the demolition of houses of people who took part in protests in Uttar Pradesh over the remarks on Prophet Mohammed. The former bureaucrats urged the CJI to take suo motu cognizance of "gross violations" of the rule of law in the state and other parts of the country.

The letter by Constitutional Conduct Group (CCG), signed by 90 eminent persons, was sent to the CJI on Monday. It stated that if the judiciary doesn't intervene, the entire edifice of constitutional governance may collapse in the country.

Referring to an appeal sent to the CJI last week by another select group of former judges of the Supreme Court and the High Courts and leading advocates, making a similar appeal, the CCG said the demolition drive and the abuse of laws for political ends was just one element of a larger policy for converting the administrative and police apparatus into an instrument of brutal repression.

'ARROGANCE OF MAJORITARIAN POWER'

The signatories to the letter include AS Dulat, Wajahat Habibullah and TKA Nair, among others. "There is a sense of impunity and the arrogance of majoritarian power which seems to be driving this disregard for constitutional values," they wrote to the CJI.

THERE was no question of a rollback of the Agnipath recruitment scheme, National Security Advisor Ajit Doval asserted on Tuesday.

In an interview to a news agency, Doval said India has one of the youngest populations in the world and it cannot continue to have an army with a high average age.

There were people who just wanted conflict in society to discredit the government, Doval added. On what will happen to the Agniveers after four years,the NSA said, "When recruits from the first batch of Agniveers retire, India will be 5-trillion-dollar economy; industry will need people who have age on their side. These men and women will still be young and won't have family compulsions."

On the controversy over Nupur Sharma's remark on Prophet Mohammed, Doval said it had dented India's reputation internationally.

"It has (damaged India's reputation), in the sense that India has been projected or some disinformation has been spread which is far from the reality. There is a need for us to engage them... Wherever we have engaged with the concerned people, both outside and inside, we have been able to convince them," the NSA said.

Talking about the border standoff with China, he said, "We have made our intentions very clear to China and they are aware we will not tolerate any transgression."

Peacemaker fails to bring rebels back to Mumbai

Uddhav's personal assistant Narvekar tries in vain to cajole Shinde

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

Shiv Sena leader Milind Narvekar (inset) arrives to meet party leader Eknath Shinde, in Surat on Tuesday amid the political crisis in Maharashtra | PTI

SHIV Sena leader Milind Narvekar, personal assistant of Uddhav Thackeray, tried to play the role of peacemaker between estranged minister Eknath Shinde and Chief Minister. Narvekar was deputed by Thackeray to rush to Surat to placate Shinde and other rebellious Sena MLAs. He, however, failed in his mission to bring rebels back to Mumbai.

Narvekar and Ravindra Phatak left Mumbai and met Shinde at hotel Le Meridien in Surat. Thereafter, Shinde spoke with Thackeray and his wife Rashmi over the phone. Sources said that the telephone call between Thackeray and Shinde lasted for more than 10 minutes.

"Shinde requested Thackeray to break the alliance with Congress and NCP and form the government with the support of BJP. Shinde even said that he does not want a ministerial berth for himself but a government should be formed with both the Shiv Sena and BJP in alliance as both the parties are natural ideological allies.

"He insisted that Shiv Sena is losing its support base due to its alliance with the Congress and NCP. Thackeray, on the other hand, asked Shinde to come back and if need be he is ready to sacrifice his CM post and he will make Shinde CM of Maharashtra. The meeting of Narvekar with Shinde didn't bring any result. It was a failed meeting. Shinde refused to continue in power with the Congress and NCP," said a source, requesting anonymity.

Interestingly, Narvekar has always been blamed whenever there was revolt in Shiv Sena against its leadership in recent times. Union minister Narayan Rane solely blamed Narvekar for not picking his phone and linking him to Uddhav Thackeray. He accused Narvekar of creating communication gap between party leaders, workers, MLA and CM Thackeray in his exit time. Now, same Narvekar is playing the significant role as peacemaker.

Meanwhile, Thackeray removed Shinde from Legislative Party Leader post and appointed Ajay Chaudhary as new LP leader.

Internal issue: Pawar

NCP chief Sharad Pawar has termed the current political crisis in Maharashtra as an internal issue of Shiv Sena. "Whatever is happening within the Sena is an internal issue of the party," he said, adding the MVA government would not collapse.

Who is Eknath Shinde?

Once an auto-rickshaw driver in Thane, Shinde (58) quickly emerged as a key Sena leader. The four-time MLA never hides his humble origins. Born in 1964, Shinde left his education before completing graduation and soon got associated with the Sena

"HE supported us in the Rajya Sabha elections and the legislative council polls...We provided logistical support to Shinde upon his revolt. The rooms at Le Meridian were booked by us," the leader said seeking anonymity.

Uddhav tried to reach out to Shinde by sending sent his personal assistant Milind Narvekar to Surat. During the 30-minute meeting Narvekar had with Shinde, the latter spoke to Uddhav and his spouse Rashmi Thackeray over the phone but he did not promise to return back to Sena.

Most of the MLAs with Shinde are from rural areas. "They were never entertained by Uddhav and his coterie. Shinde tapped this space to his advantage. He was also apprehensive about the rise of Aditya Thackeray in the party," said a person close to Shinde.

Surat turns epicentre of Maha political quake

Surat is the commercial and economic hub of BJP-ruled Gujarat. It has suddenly emerged as the epicentre of political earthquake that has hit the Maha Vikas Aghadi government in Maharashtra. Sources said Gujarat BJP unit chief CR Patil is the key force that has orchestrated 'revolt' against Thackeray.

Shekhawat, Pilot spar over past revolt, canal plan

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

UNION Jal Shakti Minister Gajendra Singh Shekhawat and former deputy CM of Rajasthan Sachin Pilot are locked in a verbal spat over the political crisis that erupted in the state two years ago.

At a public gathering in Chomu town near Jaipur, Shekhawat claimed that Pilot lost a "golden chance" in revolting against the Congress and repeating a "Madhya Pradesh-like experiment" in Rajasthan. The BJP had toppled the Congress government led by Kamal Nath after Jyotiraditya Scindia switched sides from the Congress to BJP. Shekhawat further claimed if Pilot had not failed to topple the Gehlot government, the state's 13 districts which were to be served through the Eastern Rajasthan Canal Project (ECRP) would have got water by now.

Pilot has shot back that people will no longer be fooled by the BJP's false promises.

Shekhawat used the Eastern Canal project as a ploy to embarrass Pilot and the ruling Congress. "Sachin Pilot has missed his chance in Rajasthan. Had it happened in Rajasthan, today 13 districts would not have been thirsty and the work on the Eastern Canal project would have started," he said.

Pilot did not comment on Shekhawat's statement about "missing the opportunity" but he did target him over the ERCP. "On the canal project, the BJP has betrayed Rajasthan. They are blaming us for their own failures. Despite being a minister from Rajasthan, Shekhawat is unable to fulfill the demand of his home state even though the PM had announced from the stage that the ERCP would be started. Instead of correcting the deficiency of the Centre, their ministers are trying to hide it," he said.

Business and protests go hand in hand

It has been more than three months since Bhagwant Mann took over as Punjab CM. Now, his private residence in Sangrur is the hub of protests by unemployed youth, Covid workers, police aspirants, transport department staff and political parties. Mann lives in a gated community in Sangrur. Sensing business opportunity, many people have setup makeshift stalls and are selling food, tea and snacks to the protestors. Street food vendors are also having good business. Earlier, such protests used to happen in Patiala when Capt Amarinder Singh was the CM and in Kharrar when Charanjit Singh Channi was at the helm.

Devgn to star in biopic on NRI philanthropist

A two-hour- and-forty-minute biopic is on the cards on the life of Dubai-based Punjabi Non-Resident Indian (NRI) and philanthropist Surinder Pal Singh Oberoi. It will be directed by Mahesh Bhatt and the screenplay is being written by Filmfare award winner Ritesh Shah. Ajay Devgn will play the lead role and the shooting is scheduled to start next month. Ahead of the movie's release, Netflix will be screening a 50-minute documentary titled 'Pehchan' on September 7 on how Oberoi made it big after he left his Punjab home in his youth with just ₹350. The billionaire donates 98 per cent of his earnings for social causes.

Mann's anti-corruption crusade won't be easy

CM Bhagwant Mann claims his government has solved all issues related to law and order. While Punjab Police arrested several suspects in connection with the murder of Sidhu Moosewala, it was the Delhi Police that nabbed the main shooter involved in the case. He has been reiterating that corrupt leaders of previous governments will be lodged in jail. Mann himself had alleged scams by the previous Congress regime. Several Congress leaders in the state have joined the BJP. At this juncture, it may not be easy for Mann to keep his promise.

BJP eyes to trounce SP in UP strongholds

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

CM Yogi Adityanath at an election campaign in Rampur on Tuesday | PTI

THE campaign for by-elections to Azamgarh and Rampur Lok Sabha constituencies in UP concluded on Tuesday. While the SP is high on confidence of winning both seats, the BJP is hoping to trump the former in its strongholds.

Bypolls have been necessitated in Rampur and Azamgarh, vacated by Azam Khan and SP chief Akhilesh Yadav respectively, after the two leaders decided to retain their assembly seats of Rampur Sadar and Karhal which they won in the 2022 assembly elections. The voting will take place on June 23 and the result will be announced on June 26.

The ruling BJP pressed a battery of leaders and a whole lot of state ministers from CM Yogi Adityanath to Deputy CM Keshav Maurya, into service to try to wrest both the seats from the SP. Launching a scathing attack on SP leader Azam Khan without taking his name in his bastion Rampur, Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath claimed the BJP's "double engine" government worked to liberate the poor from the 'land mafia' in Rampur in the last five years.

Meanwhile, Rampur royal family scion Nawab Kazim Ali alias Naved Mian appealed the people to vote against SP candidate Asim Raza, a close confidante of Azam Khan.

Akhilesh Yadav remained elusive and did not seek support for his party candidates in Rampur and Azamgarh.

A local SP leader of Azamgarh claimed that the party's district unit was enough to win the seat and there was no need to bother 'Adhyakshyaji' .

Political pundits believe that the SP leaders are riding high on confidence as they want to convey the message that Azamgarh and Rampur could be won even without bothering Akhilesh Yadav.

ENCOUNTER

Kashmir: Four militants killed in gunfights

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

FOUR local militants, including one involved in the recent killing of a police officer, were killed in two encounters in Kashmir on Tuesday while police attached four houses in Srinagar allegedly used for harbouring militants.

A police official said acting on specific inputs about the presence of militants, a joint contingent of police, CRPF and Army launched a search operation in Tujjan village of Pulwama district.

During the search operation, militants fired on the search party and in the ensuing gunfight, two local Jaish militants Abid Ahmad Sheikh and Majid Nazir Wani were killed. "The slain militant Majid was involved in the recent killing of police officer Farooq Ahmad Mir," the official said.

Another encounter broke out between militants and security forces in Sopore of Baramulla district. In the firefight, which continued for over two hours, two local Lashkar-e-Toiba militants were killed. Both the slain militants had joined militancy recently.

IGP Kashmir Vijay Kumar said 118 militants including 32 foreign militants have been killed in encounters in Kashmir this year so far.

RJD muscleman likely to lose MLA post after conviction

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

AFTER a special court awarded 10-year jail term to him, RJD MLA Anant Singh, known for unleashing a reign of terror in Barh-Mokama Tal area of Patna district, has joined the long list of Bihar's controversial musclemen whose political career was doomed after they fell out with the present dispensation.

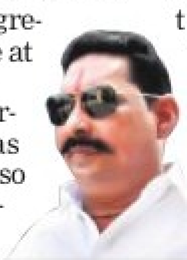
Singh was sentenced in connection with a case related to recovery of an AK-47 rifle, cartridges and hand grenades from his ancestral house at Ladma village in August 2019.

Singh may lose his membership in the Bihar assembly as per the existing law and may also languish in a jail as an ordinary prisoner if the sentence awarded to him is confirmed by the high court.

After the conviction by the MP-MLA court, Singh's counsel Sunil Singh said since his client had been convicted for more than two years, his membership in the assembly would be revoked until Patna High Court stays the judgment.

Having muscle power and popularity among voters in Barh-Mokama Tal area, Singh's acceptability was wide as both RJD chief Lalu Yadav and Chief Minister and JD-U supremo Nitish Kumar took his services to improve their parties' prospects in elections.

Singh's trouble started when he fell out with Nitish ahead of the 2015 election, said political observers in the state.



51 killed in Assam encounters in 1 year

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Guwahati

THE Assam government told the Gauhati High Court on Tuesday that 51 persons had been killed in the state in police encounters from May last year to May this year.

In an affidavit filed in the court in connection with a PIL on alleged fake encounters, the state's Home Department said that 139 others were injured during various other incidents during the period. The BJP-led Himanta Biswa Sarma government was installed on May 10 last year. Earlier, the court had ordered the government to file an affidavit on the alleged fake encounters by the police. The court fixed the next hearing on July 29.

Assam's Advocate General, Devajit Saikia had represented the state. Arif Jwadder, a Delhi-based lawyer and activist, had appeared virtually.

Jwadder had sought an order for the registration of an FIR in the cases and an independent probe by an agency such as the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI). He had also sought a judicial inquiry by a sitting judge of the HC.

YOUTH ANGER MAY COST BJP DEAR IN HIMACHAL

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

IF the numbers and the mood of the youth are any indication, the BJP has to reconsider the Agnipath policy for poll-bound Himachal Pradesh, at least.

As many as 18,798 youngsters made it to the Army from Punjab, Himachal Pradesh and Haryana in the recruitment drive in 2019-20. Punjab drew the highest, 7,813 followed by Himachal Pradesh 5,882 and Haryana 5,097.

The hill state has around 1.20 lakh serving defence personnel and almost the same number of ex-servicemen.

Himachal Congress leaders expect a large chunk of votes in the assembly elections due later this year.

The Congress calculation also hinges on the resentment prevailing among government employees over the new pension scheme.

The Congress alleges that Agnipath is anti-youth and will "destroy" the Army.

"From almost every family in Kangra, Bilaspur, Hamirpur and Una, thousands of youth join the armed forces. Agnipath will not benefit them due to the short four-year contract. This is a fraud and will have an impact on the elections," says Sukhwinder Singh Sukhu, senior leader of Himachal Pradesh Congress.

Both the Congress and Aam Aadmi Party are now trying to make Agnipath an election issue. Former minister and AICC secretary Sudhir Sharma and HPCC general secretary Kewal Singh Pathania submitted a memorandum to the Kangra district administration against the scheme. The Congress took out a procession in Shimla against Agnipath.

AAP has held statewide protests. The party's state unit chief Surjeet Thakur has written to Governor Rajendra Arlekar against Agnipath.

"The controversial contract hiring in the armed forces has shattered the dreams of many aspirants. The government should immediately roll back the Agnipath scheme and resume the regular recruitment process," Thakur wrote to the governor.

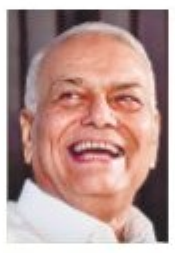
Sinha is Oppn choice for President

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi



OPPOSITION leaders on Tuesday decided to field former Union minister Yashwant Sinha as their joint candidate for Presidential polls. Sinha's name came up after NCP supremo Sharad Pawar, former Jammu & Kashmir chief minister Farooq Abdullah and ex-West Bengal governor Gopalkrishna Gandhi declined the Opposition's invite to run for President.

"We are happy to announce that we have unanimously chosen Yashwant Sinha as the common candidate of the opposition parties for the presidential election, which will take place on July 18, 2022," Congress leader Jairam Ramesh said while reading out a joint statement after the meeting.

"We regret Modi government made no serious effort to have consensus on a presidential candidate," said Ramesh.

Indicating that his name was finalised with his consent, Sinha tweeted, "Now time has come when for a larger national cause I must step aside from the party to work for greater opposition unity." Soon after that tweet, Sinha technically quit the Trinamool Congress as vice-president expressing gratefulness to TMC chief Mamata Banerjee.

Sinha, who switched over to the TMC from the BJP, was Union finance minister from 1990-1991 under then prime minister Chandra Shekhar. He also served as the external affairs minister in the Atal Bihari Vajpayee government from 2002 to 2004.

He quite the BJP in 2018 and joined the TMC after a short gap.

Murmu will be great Prez: PM

SOON after Murmu was named as the BJP-led NDA's presidential candidate, Prime Minister Modi said she has devoted her life to serving society and expressed confidence that she will be a "great President".

Born in 1958 in a poor tribal family in Odisha's Myurbhanja district, Murmu rose to her present stature after struggling through ups and down throughout her life. She was the first governor to complete a five-year term in tribal-dominated Jharkhand (2015-2021). She also served as the minister for commerce and transports in the BJP-Biju Janata Dal coalition government in Odisha from 2000 to 2002.

Russia warns Lithuania on rail ban, presses Donbas battle

US ATTORNEY GENERAL VISITS UKRAINE

Washington: US Attorney General Merrick Garland visited Ukraine on Tuesday to discuss prosecution of indivi-duals involved in war crimes, a Justice Department official said. Garland is meeting with Ukrainian Prosecutor General Iryna Venediktova. "They will discuss US and international efforts to help Ukraine identify, apprehend, and prosecute those individuals, said the official. AFP

KYIV

MOSCOW warned Lithuania of "serious" consequences on Tuesday over its restriction of rail traffic to Russia's Kaliningrad exclave, as Kremlin forces made gains in Ukraine's strategic Donbas region.

Kremlin troops were causing "catastrophic destruction" in Lysychansk, an industrial city at the forefront of clashes in the eastern Donbas, the region's governor said. Ukraine confirmed Russia had taken frontline village Toshkivka.

Governor Sergiy Gaiday said "every town and village" in Ukrainian hands in Lugansk region was "under almost non-stop fire".

In the eastern town of Sloviansk, which could become a flash point as Russian troops advance from the north, local people were preparing to withstand attack and the authorities said the community would defend itself. Meanwhile, Russia's war of words with EU member Lithuania escalated on Tuesday, vowing "serious" consequences over Vilnius' restrictions on rail traffic to the exclave of Kaliningrad.

Lithuania says it is simply adhering to EU-wide sanctions on Moscow but Russia countered, accusing Brussels of "escalation".

Moscow summoned the EU's ambassador to Russia. Its foreign ministry said Lithuania's actions "violate the relevant legal and political obligations of the European Union". On the ground, the police chief of the Kyiv region said victims of the Russian attempt to seize the capital city continued to be found. So far, the bodies of 1,333 civilians have been discovered and 300 people still missing.

On the maritime front, Russia's navy is blockading ports, which Ukraine says is preventing millions of tonnes of grain from being shipped to world markets, contributing to soaring food prices. Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said Kyiv was engaged in "complex negotiations" to unblock grain exports, although he cautioned that there was no progress as yet. AFP

Moscow offical faces jail for criticising war

MOSCOW: A MOSCOW court on Tuesday started hearing the case of a city councillor, who faces up to 10 years in jail for criticising Russia's military intervention in Ukraine. Alexei Gorinov, a 60-year-old lawyer by training, was arrested in late April for spreading "knowingly false information" about the Russian army. Gorinov is accused of acting "in a group" with another Moscow deputy Yelena Kotyonochkina, who has left Russia and was charged in absentia. He faces up to 10 years in jail. The charges come under new legislation that allows prison time for discrediting the Russian military and is part of Moscow's growing efforts to silence dissent. Gorinov appeared in court on Tuesday carrying a piece of paper that said "No to war". AFP

Imports from China rise by 45.51% in FY 22

India's exports to China grew by 0.61% in FY22, which had increased by 33.59% in FY21; items included iron, steel

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

CHINESE exports to India increased by 45.51% in FY22 to ₹7.02 trillion as compared with ₹4.82 trillion in FY21, commerce ministry data showed.

The biggest imports from China include mineral fuels, mineral oils, chemicals, fertilizers, plastic, iron and steel, electrical machinery and equipment, medical equipment , among others. In FY 21, imports from China had grown marginally by 4.5% as compared with fall of 6.21% in FY20.

Commenting on the significant increase in imports from China, Lekha S Chakraborty, Professor at the National Institute of Public Finance and Policy, said, "This is an irony why imports from China have increased by 45% in FY22 despite the bilateral political tensions. This rise in import dependency on China is not a sudden trend in FY22, but has been there in pandemic times. A reversal in trend of this import intensity from China can happen only with the economic growth convergence in the manufacturing sector to prior pandemic levels." India and China have relatively large trade deficits, however catalysing India's trade relations with the US may lead to 'decoupling ' of India-China trade, she added.

"In India, industrial recovery has started. The imports from China are majorly, raw materials, components and other industrial goods required by the industries. It suggests that the industrial recovery has begun. It is not a cause of concern. Exports from India have also increased. Had we been importing finished goods from China, it could be a cause of concern," senior economist Akash Jindal said.

India's exports to China grew by 0.61% in FY22, which increased in FY21 by 33.59%. The major items of exports included iron and steel, ores, slag and ash, organic chemicals etc. Meanwhile, imports from Russia surged by more than 81% to ₹0.73 trillion in FY 22.

JAPAN FINMIN SAYS TO RESPOND TO FX MOVES APPROPRIATELY IF NECESSARY

Japanese Finance Minister Shunichi Suzuki said on Tuesday he was concerned about recent sharp yen weakening and would appropriately respond to exchange market moves if necessary, repeating a warning as the yen hovered near a 24-year low versus the dollar. "The government will closely liaise with the Bank of Japan while watching the exchange market and its impact on the economy and prices with even greater sense of urgency," Suzuki said. "We will respond appropriately if necessary while keeping close communication with currency authorities from other countries." In so doing, Japan would follow an agreed view of Group of Seven advanced nations that excess volatility and disorderly moves can hurt economic and financial stability, Suzuki said. As he has previously in recent weeks, he expressed discomfort about the currency's fast slide. "I'm concerned about the rapid yen weakening seen recently," Suzuki told reporters. On Monday, BOJ Governor Haruhiko Kuroda met with Prime Minister Fumio Kishida to discuss the global economy and financial markets. During the meeting, the governor said recent rapid yen moves had been undesirable.

SINGAPORE ANNOUNCES $1.08 BILLION SUPPORT PACKAGE TO HANDLE SOARING PRICES

Singapore will introduce a S$1.5 billion ($1.08 billion) support package for mainly lower-income groups to help mitigate increased living costs from inflation and rising energy prices, its finance minister said on Tuesday. The plan is tilted towards low-income groups but will include rebates to all Singaporean households in the city-state of 5.5 million people for their utilities bills, Lawrence Wong told a media briefing. The package is off-cycle and will be partly funded by the higher revenues collected from the stronger-than-expected economic recovery last year. Singapore has seen decade-high inflation lately and its central bank had tightened monetary policy three times in a span of six months. "The Ukraine war has put tremendous stresses on global supply chains, and protectionist measures by countries has compounded supply chain disruptions," Wong said, according to a transcript provided by the finance ministry. "Global energy and food prices have risen sharply, and we must expect global inflation to broaden to other areas and even to pick up further before it stabilises and gets better," he added.

PHILIPPINE

PHILIPPINE CENTRAL BANK TO RAISE RATES BY 25 BPS IN JUNE, SOME CALL FOR 50BPS

The Philippine central bank will raise rates by a modest 25 basis points for a second straight meeting in June, opting to move more slowly than its global peers in an attempt to cool soaring inflation, a Reuters poll forecast. With the economy in the Southeast Asian nation recovering smartly from the pandemic and inflation at a more than three-year high of 5.4%, the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) is under pressure to act now to prevent the economy from overheating. On Monday, incoming governor Felipe Medalla signalled the prospect of a series of rate hikes this year that could extend up to 2023 to tame inflation, adding he preferred a gradual unwinding of easy monetary policy. The poll showed nearly three-quarters of economists, 16 of 22, expected the BSP to hike its key overnight reverse repurchase facility rate by 25 bps to 2.50% at its June 23 meeting. But six economists said the central bank may opt for a 50 bps increase and the expectation of more moves ahead to bring down high inflation. "Arguably, the BSP does not have adequate incentives to deliver outsized rates of 50 bps or more, even though some market expectations have shifted to a 50 bps hike at the June 23 meeting," said Lavanya Venkateswaran, economist at Mizuho Bank.

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

MAMAEARTH, the FMCG brand from the House of Honasa, plans to raise nearly $300 million in an IPO in 2023, according to an international news agency report. It says the fund raising will value the company around $3 billion.

5G auction: Fight for spectrum between telcos and tech companies gets bitter

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE tussle between Telecom Service providers (TSP) and tech giants over private 5G network is getting uglier by the day as Broadband India Forum (BIF) on Monday called telecom operators' demand not to assign any 5G spectrum to enterprises as unjust.

The forum, which has members such as Cisco and Facebook, also dismissed demand for a level-playing field between public and captive private 5G networks as absurd and impractical.

"Since the two are entirely different sets of services for two entirely different requirements, they are on different footings and are not competing with each other. The age-old and time-tested concept of 'level playing field' can't apply in the case of captive private 5G networks, as they have several distinctive traits, which distinguish them from public networks," said BIF in a statement.

Tech cos welcome govt move on 5G spectrum

Technology companies welcomed the government's move to allocate 5G spectrum to private enterprises and said it will, in turn, accelerate digital transformation of enterprises to Industry 4.0, and generate more job opportunities. The move is opposed by the telcos

The telecom ministry in notification decided to have a captive 5G network for private enterprises. However, the move was not liked by telecom operators, who said it will impact their business. Cellular Operator Association of India (COAI), which represents telecom operators, urged the government not to provide spectrum to these enterprises. On the other hand, tech giants welcomed the move and said it will, in turn, accelerate digital transformation of enterprises to Industry 4.0, and generate more job opportunities. "Seeking a level-playing field with enterprises for captive private networks is akin to a child in kindergarten being asked to compete with someone who has a doctoral degree. Enterprises will not be in the business of selling services or earning revenues via 5G networks, but only use it for self-consumption," said BIF President TV Ramachandran. In a different development, an Ericsson Mobility report on Tuesday said 5G in India is expected to account for nearly 40% of all subscriptions by 2027.

Staff prefer flexibility over 4-day week

New Delhi: As the idea of a four-day work week continues to gain traction across India, new Qualtrics research reveals nearly two-thirds of full-time employees in the country (62%) prefer flexibility of work over one-fewer day a week at work (38%). The survey revealed a shortened work week prompts concerns about longer hours, customer frustrations and company performance. "Despite various four-day work week pilots delivering proven benefits - like improvements to wellbeing and increases to productivity, many respondents believe there would be trade-offs. 77% say they expect to work longer hours, while 64% say they think it will encourage people to slack off, alongside concerns regarding customer frustrations (63%) and a detrimental impact on company performance (62%)," it says. ENS

Benchmark indices rally in line with global peers

RAM SAHGAL @ Mumbai

BENCHMARK indices staged a smart relief rally in line with global peers, with both Nifty and Sensex rising nearly 2% each after bears covered their short positions.

Last week Nifty fell by over 900 points or 5.6% as commodity and IT stocks tanked in line with their global counterparts. On Tuesday, Nifty rose 289 points to 15,638.8 and Sensex jumped 934 points to 52,532. The Nifty 50's gains were led by Titan, Hindalco, JSW Steel, Coal India and Adani Ports, which rose by 4-6% .

Tuesday 's rise was led by domestic institutional investors' buying of ₹3,066.41 crore and retail buying, provisional BSE data shows . However, in a sign that the worst might not be over yet , FIIs sold a provisional ₹2,701 crore worth of shares on Tuesday, adding to the ₹97,177 crore they've sold in the fiscal year through Monday .

"Absence of fresh selling triggers in the domestic and global economy along with falling commodity prices relieved the heavily discounted equity market to showcase recovery," said Vinod Nair, research head at Geojit Financial Services. "The recovery indicates the current uncertainties of inflation and monetary policy tightening have been factored in. However, with the highly sensitive nature of the current equity market, even the slightest inconvenience can trigger volatility." Analysts expect the Nifty to test 15900-16200 levels in the coming sessions if the market trades decisively above 15671 , the March low in the wake of the Ukraine war .

Some like Hormuz Maloo of AFco Investments expect the market to correct once again after testing 16202. Maloo expects the market to correct to 14400 levels after the present relief rally . Analysts fear monetary tightening by the US Fed would induce a recession in the world's largest economy , which would crimp demand and lead to more FII outflows.

Rising costs take sheen off cos profit

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

BOTH listed manufacturing and IT companies saw a sharp deceleration in operating profits in Q4FY22 from a year ago.

A rise in raw material expenses in the case of manufacturing firms and staff costs across IT companies was behind this deceleration , an RBI release on the performance of private corporates business sector shows. Operating profit, defined as value of production minus expenditure, of 1,709 manufacturing companies grew just 7% through ₹1.5 lakh crore in Q4 against 70% a year ago for 1,633 companies and 11.8% for 1,701 companies in the preceding quarter. The slower profitability growth was because expenditure in Q4 for these companies rose by 27.4% against 23.9% growth a year ago (FY21) . The main reason behind the jump in expense was raw material cost, which rose by 32.8% at ₹5.46 lakh crore against a 31.3% rise a year ago. Power and fuel costs to rose.

RBI DISALLOWS NON-BANK PPIs TO LOAD CREDIT LINES

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

AT a time when BNPL (buy now, pay later) and e-wallets are booming, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has issued a notification disallowing non-bank prepaid payment instruments (PPI) issuers from loading credit lines.

This move is likely to impact fintech players who offer credit lines in partnership with non-banking financial companies. PPIs facilitate the purchase of goods and services and conduct of financial services.

In a circular, the RBI said, "The PPI- MD (master direction) does not permit loading of PPIs from credit lines. Such practice, if followed, should be stopped immediately. Any non-compliance in this regard may attract penal action under provisions contained in the Payment and Settlement Systems Act, 2007". The RBI has warned only non-bank PPI issuers, as it allows PPIs to be loaded/reloaded by cash, debit to bank account, credit and debit cards. There are 37 non-bank PPI issuers including Bajaj Finance, Amazon Pay and Phone Pe, among others. "If, the RBI has sent or intends a similar letter to even bank issuers, then even these business models could face restrictions and result in business model changes," says Nomura in a report.

"We really don't see a big difference in loading a PPI with a credit card that has an underlying credit line and is an allowed form-factor as against a running credit line from any lender, which is being prohibited. A credit card is just a form-factor whereas the credit line is the actual lending service. This needs further clarification, in our view," it added. Meanwhile, the RBI has extended the timeline for implementation of certain provisions of Master Direction- issuance and conduct of credit and debit cards- from July 1, 2022 to October 1, 2022. Under the new directive, card-issuers should seek OTP-based consent from the cardholder for activating a credit card if the same has not been activated by the customer for over 30 days from the date of issuance.

Many websites go down due to Cloudflare outage

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

CLOUDFLARE, the network transit, proxy and security provider, on Tuesday experienced an outage, which led to several services like Zerodha, Groww, Upstox, among others going down.

Several users on the internet using Cloudflare-backed websites were shown a "500 internal server error" message, indicating that the web server is experiencing problems.

"We are getting reports of intermittent connectivity issues on Kite via the Cloudflare network for users on certain ISPs (internet service providers). We are taking this up with Cloudflare," said brokerage platform Zerodha before the glitch was fixed.

Upstox tweeted, "Our content delivery partner, Cloudflare, is currently experiencing issues in India, due to which some of our services may be temporarily inaccessible."

Retail investors in India faced a difficult time placing buy and sell orders on these discount broking platforms, especially on the day when the market witnessed a sharp rally.

In a statement, Cloudflare said, "A critical P0 incident was declared at approximately 06:34 AM UTC [around 12:30 PM in India]. Connectivity in Cloudflare's network has been disrupted in broad regions. Customers attempting to reach Cloudflare sites in impacted regions will observe 500 errors. The incident impacts all data plane services in our network."

Without disclosing what caused the issue, the company said that it has identified and fixed the issue.

Cloudflare had faced a similar outage in some parts of the world last week.

FLYING all the way from Seattle in the United States, India's newest airline Akasa Air's first Boeing 737 MAX aircraft touched down at the Indira Gandhi International Airport in Delhi on Tuesday.

According to the Rakesh Jhunjhunwala-backed airline, arrival of the aircraft brings the it closer to obtaining its air operator's permit (AOP), which is required for launching commercial operations in the country.

"The arrival of our first aircraft is a very happy moment for all of us & marks an important milestone, bringing us closer to our vision of building India's greenest, most dependable, and most affordable airline," said Vinay Dube, founder, managing director & chief executive officer, Akasa Air.

It was only last week the airline took delivery of its first 737 Max aircraft from Boeing in Seattle. In November 2021, Akasa had inked a $9 billion deal with the US-based aircraft major to purchase 72 MAX planes, which includes an initial delivery of 18 aircraft by March 2023 and the remaining 54 airplanes in the next four years. These planes will be powered by the fuel-efficient CFM LEAP B engine.

Akasa has already received the no-objection certificate from the Ministry of Civil Aviation in August 2021 to launch commercial flight operations.

Adani, others show interest in tender for coal imports

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

COAL INDIA (CIL) on Tuesday said 11 companies including Adani Enterprises, Mohit Minerals and Chettinad Logistics and a couple of coal exporting agencies from abroad have shown interest in CIL's tender for coal imports.

The state-run company recently floated three e-tenders to source coal from overseas on behalf of state gencos and independent power plants (IPPs) for blending with the domestic coal.

"A total of 11 coal importers joined the session with CIL officials. The prominent Indian agencies among them were Adani Enterprises Limited, Mohit Minerals and Chettinad Logistics Private Limited. Couple of coal exporting agencies from abroad also have shown interest including one from Indonesia," said CIL in a statement.

India's largest coal producer held three pre-bid meetings on June 14 and 17, 2022, with prospective importing agencies evincing interest in the global competitive bidding e-tenders that the company had floated earlier in the month. The meetings, Coal India said, were scheduled to help the bidders keen on competing in the process, gain a better understanding of the bid document. In the meeting, Coal India said bidders requested for narrowing the time window of the bid price validity from 90 days to 60 days.

Vijender set for return at first pro boxing event in Raipur

Indian boxing ace Vijender Singh will be back in action during his sixth professional bout in the country when he takes to the ring in the 'Rumble in the Jungle' event in Raipur in August. The 36-year-old, who is the first Indian to bag an Olympic medal (bronze) in boxing in 2008, has a record of 12-1 with eight knockouts after turning professional in 2015. This will be the first professional boxing event in Raipur.

GOOD EXPOSURE

Hunting ground for players & IPL teams

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

FROM disgruntled franchise owners writing to the Tamil Nadu Cricket Association (TNCA) seeking changes in revenue model in 2019 to India's top state-based T20 professional league, Tamil Nadu Premier League has come a long way. For a league that started as a filler in 2016 because Chennai Super Kings were suspended from the IPL, topping the popularity chart in the state and its neighbourhood speaks a lot about its sustainability and growth. In between, quite a few state-run franchise T20 leagues perished as quickly as they were launched.

The Karnataka State Cricket Association had started its own league in 2009/10. But after running into several controversies, it has been suspended for the time being. Even the Mumbai T20 League run by the Mumbai Cricket Association has collapsed. While state units like Bengal, Jharkhand, Saurashtra have their own leagues, they don't have a franchise model. And of course, not that public connection TNPL generates.

For now TNPL seems to be the model other state units want to emulate. Apart from getting huge eyeballs on television, full houses, 14 players from TNPL played in IPL 2022. And 13 of the stars including R Ashwin, Dinesh Karthik are expected to feature this season. Another indicator of its success is that Punjab, Himachal and Andhra cricket units are planning to send representatives to study its business model.

With IPL getting bigger and bigger, franchises look towards leagues like TNPL with great interest for scouting. TNPL is not about business alone. There are players who have shone too. T Natarajan, Varun Chakravarthy, Sai Sudarshan B, R Sai Kishore are just a few examples. In fact, Natarajan and Varun went on to play for India. "There is definitely a huge gap in standards. But that is not what you look at here," said Hemang Badani, head coach of defending champs Chepauk Super Gillies.

Badani, who has also coached Jaffna Kings in the Lanka Premier League and is also the fielding coach and scout for Sunrisers Hyderabad, believes such tournaments help players to get noticed in T20 variety. "They get early exposure of playing under lights, before a crowd and also being in front of a television audience," Badani said.

Run like the IPL, the TNPL's growth could be seen easily in the number of sponsors it has managed to line up. Each season, it has seen an increase and this time too, like the IPL, will have two broadcasters – Disney Star for television and Voot for digital. Tirunelveli, Dindigul, Coimbatore and Salem are all geared up to roll out the red carpet for the TNPL.

While players stand to benefit the most as consistent performance could fetch an IPL contract, for an IPL franchise, such T20 leagues offer an opportunity to spot talent.

"In TNPL you get to grow a different skill because your entire career you are taught conventional style. It is not easy for a youngster to develop certain skill sets and when you get to do that in a competitive game, it boosts the confidence level too," said Sai Sudarshan, who was part of IPL title winners Gujarat Titans.

Early exit from Wimbledon qualifiers latest in a disappointing year for India singles players

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Chennai

EXPECTATIONS in singles tennis in India is rock bottom. Losses are the norm, wins are a pleasant surprise and the transition to doubles from singles is expected. Before delving into the specifics, one thing is clear. For a combination of reasons — genes, a lack of a good coaching programme, expenses involved, dearth of competitions at home and the absence of a good structure to name a few — the country is handicapped at various levels. The ones that make it through — in the Indian context, this means breaking into the top-100 and/or winning a couple of main draw matches at a Major and/or picking up several ATP or WTA tour wins over a few years — break down because of injuries.

Even with all these caveats in place, the first six months of 2022 has been a torrid phase, something that should be put through the incinerator and never to be spoken of again. Just when you thought the expectations couldn't go any lower, Monday changed that perception. In the first round of Wimbledon qualification at Roehampton, both Yuki Bhambri and Ramkumar Ramanathan lost. It's the first time in years that no Indians will be in action in the next rounds of the qualification process. Forget making the second round of a Major, right now it's so bad that they can't even make the second qualification round.

Heck, that isn't even surprising considering all the singles players, combined, have won one tour-level main draw match in 2022. In fact, truth be told, they haven't even made the cut to play in the main draw via rankings. At the Pune Open, Arjun Kadhe, Ramkumar and Prajnesh Gunneswaran were handed wildcards (Yuki Bhambri used his protected ranking to make the cut).

Ramkumar, who's had lots of success as a doubles player in 2022, has seemingly forgotten how to win singles matches on a consistent basis. Including qualifiers and main draw matches at the tour level, he has played four and has lost the lot. At the Challenger level, he has lost nine matches at the first time of asking. That he remains India's best ranked singles player is an accurate portrayal of the year the others have had. Maybe, he's also doing the time honoured tradition of jumping to the doubles circuit? His doubles ranking, this time last year, was 124. Now, it's 71 (he's always maintained that he sees himself as a singles specialist).

Worryingly, all of the above-mentioned players are 24 or above with a couple of them pushing 30 or above.

Rugby league joins swimming in banning transgender athletes

SYDNEY: The sport of rugby league on Tuesday joined swimming by banning transgender players from international competition, as world athletics said it was also considering a rule change. Rugby league authorities said transgender athletes would be "unable to play" in international matches while they undertook consultations and research to finalise a new policy for 2023. They cited the "welfare, legal and reputational risk" to the game and players in taking their decision. The 13-a-side game's governing body acted a day after international swimming effectively banned transgender athletes from women's races, placing them instead in a new "open category". World athletics hinted at tougher policies on transgender athletes taking part in women's events.

Struggling Rani fails to make WC squad

NEW DELHI: Former skipper Rani Rampal, who is yet to regain full fitness, did not find a place in the Indian team for the next month's FIH World Cup as Hockey India announced an 18-member squad on Tuesday. Rani, who led the side at the Tokyo Olympics, was picked for the recent FIH Pro League ties in Belgium and Netherlands after recovering from a hamstring injury.

Wrestlers to skip Rome Ranking Series for CWG visa process

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

INDIAN wrestlers will not compete at the Matteo Pellicone Ranking Series scheduled to begin in Rome, Italy on Wednesday. The reason? All the selected wrestlers have to be in the country for the collection of their biometric information to process visas for the upcoming Commonwealth Games (CWG) in Birmingham, UK.

"The wrestlers have to be in the country for visa processing. We have given passports to the Indian Olympic Association (IOA) as the visas are expected to be processed this week," Vinod Tomar, assistant secretary of the Wrestling Federation of India (WFI), told this daily. The wrestlers will now continue to camp at designated centres — women at SAI centre, Lucknow and men at SAI centre, Sonepat. "We don't want to delay visa process so the WFI has decided to skip the Rome tournament," added Tomar.

The next event is the Grand Prix of Spain in Madrid from July 8 to 10. It will be followed by Zouhaier Sghaier Ranking Series in Tunis, Tunisia from July 14 to 17. The two-day wrestling competition at the CWG is scheduled to begin on August 5.

U-17 women create history

Meanwhile, the Indian women's wrestling team created history by winning the U-17 Asian Championships title in Bishkek, Kyrgyzstan on Tuesday. The women wrestlers from the country won medals in all the ten weight categories — eight gold, one silver and as many bronze — they competed at the ongoing championships.

Rishab Shetty on his upcoming comedy-drama

DAY'S DIARY

Raikoke eruption

On this day in 2019, volcano Raikoke erupted on an uninhabited island in the Russian Far East after lying dormant for 95 years

THE HISTORY

Raikoke lies 400 km southwest of the southern tip of Russia's Kamchatcka Peninsula. Raikoke has been under Russia's control since World War II

THE ERUPTION EPISODE

According to the Smithsonian Institution's Global Volcanism Program, the eruption consisted of at least nine explosions and lasted for hours

POWERFUL IMPACT

The eruption was so powerful that it was captured by the International Space Station. No one was hurt as the island was sparsely inhabited

A brief break and stint abroad later, comedian Amit Tandon is back in town with his show 'Masala Sandwich' with which he is touring the country

'LOAF'ING ALL THE WAY

I love that Bengaluru audience is receptive to comedy and are well-travelled. Since the exposure level is pretty high and people come from all over the place, I don't have to explain a joke much, which is great

— Amit Tandon, comedian

ANILA KURIAN

THE stand-up comedy scene in the country has picked up since the pandemic and Amit Tandon is taking complete advantage of it. Bringing back his popular show Masala Sandwich with a multi-city tour in India after performing abroad earlier this year, Tandon is presenting everything funny — from relationships other couples have to his relationship with his wife.

Speaking to CE, he says, "I wrote this special towards the end of 2019 and then the pandemic hit. I performed it a few times after and have been travelling with it but honestly, I want to start working on my next set. So, in a sense, this is me performing this now to get rid of it before I start working on the next one!"

With a busy schedule up his sleeve, he's currently on a 12-city tour. He'll be performing in Bengaluru this weekend. "I last visited Bengaluru in March where I did smaller shows. I absolutely love performing here. I love that the audience is receptive to comedy and are well-travelled. Since the exposure level is pretty high and people come from all over the place, I don't have to explain a joke much, which is great," he laughs.

Completing the India tour in the third week of August, Tandon will be starting his world tour in Dubai the week after. "Before that, I want to complete this special and release it on an OTT platform," he says, recalling that he was one of the first Hindi comics to make it to Netflix in 2019. "Things have definitely changed since then. We used to see more stand-up specials on OTT before the pandemic. Now the platforms are also quite picky on what goes on it as they want more fictional stories there," he says.

However, social media has been a great platform for comics to showcase their work. Tandon says, "I personally believe that Facebook works better for me than Instagram. I put out my experimental content there and the response I get is how I decide what needs to be done next." But it's not that easy to create content either. "I keep my eyes and ears open for anything around me. Whenever I feel like there's a material I can work with, I e-mail that pitch to myself in a specific format. I segregate it on my drives and once I'm ready to write, I just rant about it. I do trial shows which give me an idea which joke works and which doesn't and how I need to improve them," he explains.

Having said that, stand-up comedy isn't the only type of content Tandon works on now. He's currently working on an OTT project where he's writing a comedy series about the partition. "I feel like every time we see works about the partition, it's always a sad story, but there are so many other things that have happened. So, I'm working on bringing that story forward. I also have a few other movie projects where I'm working as a consultant," he signs off.

QUESTIONS

1. The Anglo-Mysore Wars were a series of four wars fought between the British and the rulers of Mysore during the latter half of 18th century. Tipu Sultan, known as the 'Tiger of Mysore', became the British's fiercest foe until he was defeated and killed in 1799 in the fourth war. One of the few relics that exist in Bengaluru from the Anglo-Mysore war era is Tipu Sultan's Armoury. Which historic area in Bengaluru is the underground armoury located?
2. Of the many royal residences that Tipu Sultan built, the 'Summer Palace' in Bengaluru was a magnificent one. A major portion of the summer palace that exists today was commenced by Hyder Ali in 1778 and completed by Tipu in 1791. There exists another summer palace built by Tipu on a historic hill on the outskirts of Bengaluru. Name the hills.
3. Tipu Sultan was born to Fatima Fakhr-un-Nisa in 1750 even before she could reach the fort located on the northern outskirts of Bengaluru, while his father Hyder Ali was engrossed in a fierce battle on a southern campaign. Name the burgeoning locality on the northern side of Bengaluru where Tipu was born.

If your skin acts funny each time there's a change in weather, aesthetic practitioner Helen Smitha Rodrigues has simple methods to keep it under control

Seasonal Skin Shenanigans

ISHRATH MUBEEN

GIVE me some sunshine, give me some rain. Come to Bengaluru, you'll get both in a day.' This popular meme has been floating on social media, especially with the last few months having witnessed varied conditions. So, with so many changes, is the weather altering your skin condition? Aesthetic practitioner Helen Smitha Rodrigues reassures that it is normal and that several factors influence how the weather affects your skin, including genetic makeup, skin type, and level of sun exposure.

Now that the monsoon has set in, after some really hot days, the humidity levels are also fluctuating. "All of these changes cause the skin to suffer greatly, particularly sensitive skin. Increased humidity and the general feel of dampness cause a range of problems such as acne, eczema, itching, whiteheads, blackheads, oily skin, rashes, dryness, fungi and bacterial infections. The humidity in the air causes you to sweat a lot making your skin pale and dull," she says. Which is why Rodrigues suggests exfoliation which removes dead skin cells and reveals the radiant skin beneath. "Exfoliate your skin no more than twice a week. Going overboard will cause even more problems with your skin like impurities and annoying breakouts," she says.

Investing in a cleanser with exfoliating acids is better than physically exfoliating your skin which may lead to premature ageing and further dullness. "Sensitive skin such as your lips and the area around your eyes are thinner than the rest of your face and necessitates extra care. Consult your skin expert before trying anything," Rodrigues adds.

Talking about moisturisers, Rodrigues suggests that those with excessively oily skin, should opt for a water-based moisturiser because it has the ability to remove oil from your skin and keep it nourished for a much longer period. A common question is if the use of sunscreen is necessary during the rainy season. "The sun may not be shining through the clouds, but the harmful rays are still present and can cause skin damage. Wearing a good sunscreen will protect skin from the sun's UV-A and UV-B rays. A gel or a matte sunscreen is good for oily or combination skin while cream sunscreens with a heavier texture are good for dry skin," she says.

PREVENTION AND PRECAUTIONS

- Cleanliness and care are two factors to prevent skin infections
- Cleanse at least thrice a day to remove excess moisture
- To keep your skin moist, supple, and healthy, use a nourishing moisturiser
- Use non-alcoholic products to even out your skin tone
- Protect your hair from increased grime and germs

OPENING UP, UNABASHEDLY

In her memoir, Bollywood star Kubbra Sait shares her past trauma and what led to the writing of her book at this stage in her life

RESHMI CHAKRAVORTY

> There was no pressure on me to write this memoir. Moreover, the book is not a statement. There was no need for me to prove anything with the book
>
> — Kubbra Sait, actor

FROM being an awkward teen in braces to becoming a sought-after master of ceremonies and successfully portraying the transgender Kukoo in the hit Netflix series Sacred Games, Kubbra Sait has broken boundaries and made a name for herself. The life and career of the actor have been written about extensively, but this marks the first time she has written about it herself. Titled 'Open Book: Not Quite a Memoir '- part memoir, part inspirational treatise, the book, which can be pre-ordered, lays bare her struggles, achievements, joys and failures. Published by HarperCollins India, the book contains 24 chapters, each named idiosyncratically after the pivotal theme outlining the narrative of that chapter. Over a freewheeling conversation, Sait spoke about the thought behind it, the challenges and why she felt the need to pen her memoir at this stage in her life.

Talking about what inspired her to pen her life in black and white, the Bengaluru girl says, "During the first lockdown when we didn't know what to do with our time is when I decided to write the memoir. Everyone was looking to enroll in courses, learn a new skill, make banana bread or whip up Dalgona coffee, and I thought, 'I want to do something that's useful to me'. Even though I tried to make banana bread too, I failed. It was an emotionally low point for everyone during the early phases of lockdown." She adds, "The thought of writing a memoir came to me and I took it up. There was no pressure on me and moreover, the book is not a statement. There was no need for me to prove anything with the book. The entire process of writing took me eight months. The easiest part was naming the book. Open Book: Not Quite a Memoir felt apt for the title." The fact that Sait was not afraid to fail as an author, gave her the required fuel to go ahead.

Even though she enjoyed the entire writing process, there are a few chapters in the book which are close to her. "The chapter about my school and hugs are very dear to me. I love to be hugged and during the pandemic, we were all alone with no one to meet. The spiritual side of me helped go through those troubled times. Again, there's this one chapter in the book, where it brought back challenging memories – I had lumps in my throat. The chapter 'Face the Talk' was also a very important phase of my life which I needed to share but it would take a strong stomach to hear the truth," she shares.

So, what made her attempt an autobiography this early in life? Wouldn't she have wanted to wait it out to share more experiences? "Don't worry, I might pen a mega autobiography too if I feel the need in the future. There I will include all that I have missed in Open Book. I feel writing a book is an art, if in the future I feel like pursuing it again, I will do so," says Sait, who is working on multiple projects, webseries and films – all slated for release early next year.

December in Dacca delves into 1971 Indo-Pak war

Writer K S Nair's new book December in Dacca tells the story of what is considered the greatest victory of the Indian Army – the 1971 Bangladesh Liberation. The book was launched in the city recently. Nair is an alumnus of IIT Delhi and IIM-Bangalore is also the author of Ganesha's Flyboys: The Indian Air Force in the Congo, 1960–62 and The Forgotten Few: The Indian Air Force in World War II - both retellings of thrilling anecdotes while contextualising them in diplomatic, strategic, and tactical contexts. He highlighted the relevance of the book in a contemporary context. "The book claims itself as not a hidden agenda or a mystery to be unveiled, but a public recommendation or reminder with lessons to modern India," he says. The book questions why the events of 1971 are not better known, and how a better understanding could aid India in reaffirming its sense of self.

Post-Covid weddings

HRIDAY RANJAN
Urban Bourbon
(Writer, comedian)

I have never been a fan of weddings. Either attending them or being a stakeholder in them. I've never been married, and like many in my generation – never been very keen on it.

Perhaps it was witnessing my parents' marriage that forged this decision. Their marriage was a daily soap playing out on an hourly basis. On some days, it was a long-drawn Test match. On others, it was the slog overs of a T20 thriller. Some matches were washed out, some abandoned, till the spectators had enough, the broadcast rights were given up, and the two parties amicably shook hands and agreed never to play each other again.

Or perhaps it was the general disillusionment of my generation with the institution. A marriage is like a dosae coming off a hot, steaming tawa. Either get married in your 20s, or the dosae will seem more and more unappetising to you. As I entered my 30s, I felt more and more repulsed by the idea of it.

If being in a marriage seems scary, attending a wedding is no walk in Cubbon Park either. It consists of all the things I despise – dressing up, meeting people, smiling, and answering questions on my life. Unless there's free booze, of course!

The only reason to attend a wedding in my opinion, is the free booze. It's the only time you can ask for six large pegs and nobody will judge you. It's the only time I genuinely wish the couple the best of happiness and marital success. At regular weddings, you'll find me shirking off at the back. But if there's booze, I'll be the unmarried royal stag, the genial old monk, wise enough to look at the world beyond black & white lenses.

I'm flabbergasted by the amount of money people throw away at weddings. Some of the investment is recovered as gifts. But what about the aunty who slips ₹51 into the shiny envelope? Or those saving the planet by recycling the gifts they received from others? Or the bachelors who come in groups of ten and hand over a measly ₹101?

Which is why I respect couples who got married in the lockdown. God, the universe, and a strange virus conspired to help them save money. Not only did they save lakhs' worth of food going to the municipality dustbin, they also avoided the company of elders in a wedding. For you see, the elderly guests are the quality check that nobody asked for at weddings. This voluntary group of people go about inspecting everything from the food, to the clothes, to the quality of guests invited. As luck would have it, the elderly were at the most risk due to the pandemic.

If you're a young couple looking to get married, please read the next paragraph carefully. A new wave is lurking around, and there couldn't be a better time to get hitched. Invite only 20 people, and avoid the unfortunate acquaintances that we call relatives. Ask a friend to bring a tripod, and broadcast the wedding on Instagram. When asked why they weren't invited, tell relatives that everybody has Covid, and it was actually a quarantine measure.

Unless of course, there's booze in your wedding. Then, kindly write to me. I shall attend your wedding. I shall guard the open bar, and ensure annoying relatives don't crash your wedding. It's a royal challenge I'm willing to take up, and I'll ensure it's a matter of (blender's) pride for the couple!!

'I LOVE EXPLORING GENRES'

Rishab Shetty talks to CE about his upcoming non-linear comedy-drama, Harikathe Alla Girikathe, and the experience of playing the director's role in the film by Karan Ananth and Anirudh Mahesh

A SHARADHAA

Rishab Shetty is a personality who becomes the face of the film he is part of irrespective of the responsibility he takes up. In his new film, Harikathe Alla Girikathe directed by Karan Ananth and Anirudh Mahesh, he plays the lead, apart from co-producing the film along with Sandesh Production.

Rishab, however, feels that films are teamwork. "I don't indulge myself in every department of filmmaking, but I took responsibilities whenever it is necessary because the film is executed under our production house, Rishab Shetty Films. Producer Sandesh Nagaraj trusted my presence in the film a lot but that added to the pressure on me at times. At the end of the day, all of us work towards delivering a good film."

Asked if the young director duo relied on his inputs, Rishab says, " I just gave my ideas, whenever there was scope for improvement. It wasn't something abnormal, it was very organic."

Rishab shares that the support of his team enabled him to just focus on the acting front in HKGK. "The process was very easy. We had Pramod Shetty along with Sandesh Nagaraj handling the production responsibilities. So my job was to wait for my shot. Not doing much behind the camera was initially boring for me, but I learnt to have fun just as an actor." Interestingly Rishab plays a director in HKGK, and he found the struggles of the character to be very relatable. "I got reminded of the days when I met people seeking opportunities, the aspirations I had for my first film, my helping friends and the obstacles. I believe every struggling director out there will find the character relatable," he says.

Harikathe Alla Girikathe is a non-linear comedy-drama and this makes the film unique for Rishab. "The film consists of so many characters and takes the audience on a roller coaster ride. The entire film is filled with humour, and I am curious how people will receive our film," he says, adding, "Though comedies seem easy to make, it is a difficult genre to shoot." Rishab shares that the thirst to explore genres keeps driving him forward. "I love to explore all kinds of genres, except horror films. I don't like watching horror films, so I won't make a film belonging to that genre," he says.

'ORCHESTRA MYSURU IS A STORY OF NAMMA 'LA LA LAND'

CE FEATURES

Sunil Mysooru's directorial venture Orchestra will be presented by Karthik Gowda and Yogi G Raj's KRG Studios and Dhananajay's Daali Pictures. An official announcement of the collaboration was made a couple of days ago. They followed it up with the trailer launch on Tuesday. Kannada star Ramya unveiled the trailer. The trailer gives a glimpse of the orchestra culture in Mysuru. The film is about an aspiring young man, who dreams to sing in an orchestra. "Orchestra Mysuru is a story of namma 'La La Land' says director Sunil Mysooru.

The film stars Poornachandra Mysuru in the lead and features many actors from Mysuru. Raghu Dixit, who has co-produced the film along with Ashwin Vijay Kumar, has also composed eight songs. Actor Dhananjay has written the lyrics for one of the tracks.

The film is written by Sunil along with singer Naveen Sajju. It features Rajalakshmi as the female lead. Mahesh Kumar, Ravi Hunsur, Sachu, Rajesh Basvanna, Lingarju, and Mahadeva Prasad are also part of the cast.

Joseph K Raja has handled the film's cinematography and has also played an important role in the film. The team is yet to fix the release date. They are planning to release the film around a festival season.

DIVORCE IS EASIER FOR MEN THAN WOMEN: ANIL KAPOOR

Anil Kapoor, Varun Dhawan and Kiara Advani get candid on marriage, divorce, and family, as they discuss their upcoming film, JugJugg Jeeyo

KARTIK BHARDWAJ

JUGJUGG Jeeyo is a family entertainer with a dose of drama. The Raj Mehta directorial that stars Anil Kapoor, Varun Dhawan, Kiara Advani and Neetu Kapoor, revolves around the themes of marriage, divorce, and family. Varun and Kiara play a couple on the verge of separation, as a wedding becomes an excuse for a family reunion when Varun's character Kukoo Saini realises that his father Bheem (Anil Kapoor) too is considering divorce with his mother (Neetu Kapoor). "Today, there is a Bheem everywhere, or everyone wants to become a Bheem," says Anil Kapoor, cheekily. "Life is tough, these days, and there are many couples who are unhappy. Some keep thinking about it (divorce) while others do it."

As divorce is still a taboo subject in our society, we ask the actor whether he believes there's utility in continuing a toxic marriage for the sake of the family. "Absolutely not," he stresses. "If two people are not happy, they should not be together. But I also feel that divorce is easier on men than women. Women are expected to sacrifice a lot for the family. It's important for them to have a good support system of relatives and friends, so that it becomes easier for them to let go of a relationship."

Varun believes that friendship is the most important component of a marriage. The actor, incidentally, married his childhood sweetheart, fashion designer Natasha Dalal, earlier this year. "One needs to know each other well before tying the knot. A couple should talk about things that are going to cause trouble later, so they can avoid unsolicited surprises."

Varun has been a regular in family entertainers like Dilwale (2015), Badrinath ki Dulhania (2017) and Coolie No.1 (2020). He has also experimented with grim roles in Badlapur (2015) and October (2018). The Dhawan scion believes that the former genre attracts him. "I have grown up on films like Hum Aapke Hain Koun…! (1994), Dilwale Dulhaniya Le Jaenge (1995), Hum Saath Saath Hain (1999) and Kabhi Khushi Kabhie Gham (2001). I like the feeling of sitting in a theatre with friends and enjoying a film that makes you laugh while hitting all the emotional notes. The pressure, say between a Badrinath ki Dulhania and an October, is different. I learn from senior actors to keep the pressure in the pocket and not let it spill into performance," he says.

Anil likes to 'balance his performances'. "That's how my career, spanning over 40 years, has played out. I did Ram Lakhan (1989) and Virasat (1997). Recently, I have done a Western noir like Thar, an over-the-top role in Malang (2019), and now I am doing JugJugg Jeeyo. I want to do commercial cinema, but I also want to experiment with my roles." Despite fresh stories and roles, the year has been a dud at the box office for Hindi cinema. Its Southern counterparts, meanwhile, have enjoyed incredible success both in content and commerce.

"People want a good film," says Varun. "It doesn't matter if the said film is in Hindi or a South language or from across the border. After the pandemic, many films with outdated themes needed to be released. Even South cinema suffered flops. Having said that, I liked K.G.F 2 a lot, and I think Hindi cinema is also trying to expand its scale and come up with quality content."

JugJugg Jeeyo marks Neetu Kapoor's first film after the demise of her husband, superstar Rishi Kapoor. "She never let us feel the weight of the situation on the sets," says Anil Kapoor, who is working with the actor for the first time. "She said she felt nervous while coming to the set without him (Rishi Kapoor)," adds Varun. "But once she started acting, she seemed so effortless, like a fish in water."

Kiara, who plays Varun's wife in the film, points out that she has some impactful scenes with Neetu. "There is a scene where our characters, a daughter-in-law and a mother-in-law, are interacting. Neetu ma'am got a monologue, and I remember that by the end of it, we both had tears in our eyes."

Kiara, who hopes to have a 'hit-trick' after Kabir Singh and the latest Bhool Bhulaiyaa 2, says JugJugg Jeeyo is a film with 'repeat value'. "I have seen it multiple times during editing and dubbing. All the situational comedy, the emotional moments, the drama, and the jokes work! We are happy with how the film has turned out." Varun agrees: "This happens very rarely. We are confident that the film will have a big Sunday."

JugJugg Jeeyo, produced by Karan Johar's Dharma Productions and Viacom18 Studios, will be out in theatres this Friday, June 24.

Jaadugar trailer out

CE FEATURES

THE trailer of Jaadugar, featuring actor Jitendra Kumar, is out. The sports comedy will stream on Netflix from July 15.

The actor plays Meenu, a small-time magician in the football-crazed town of Neemuch. "Meenu, Raat o Ki Neende Cheenu," he introduces himself.

Meenu is great with tricks but can't seem to acquit himself on the football ground—nor does he care. However, when love strikes in the form of Isha (Love Aaj Kal's Arushi Sharma), it becomes imperative for Meenu to join his ragtag colony team, coached by a stout Jaaved Jaaferi, and see it to victory.

Excited about the film, Jitendra said, "Jaadugar is a film extremely close to my heart. Playing the larger than life, rebellious Meenu was a new and exciting journey for me. I am thankful to the director Sameer Saxena and the Posham Pa and Chalkboard Entertainment teams for bringing this beautiful family entertainer to life and trusting me with this role."

Jitendra had previously played a similar small-town man in Gone Kesh (2019) and Chaman Bahaar (2022). The film's director Sameer had played the character Maheshwari sir in the popular series, Kota Factory and also created the TVF show Yeh Meri Family.
